OUR FACULTY

The faculty of the West Chicago Community High School, with infinite patience, has pushed and pulled reluctant students through the school year, 1930-1931.

In the second row, reading from left to right, are: Samuel Bishop, University of Illinois; C. Quincy Drummond, University of Iowa; Lloyd Swanson, Drake University; William Anderson, University of Wisconsin; Cary C. Byerly, North Manchester College; Donald Gamble, University of Illinois; Audra Earl Cochrum, University of Illinois; and Melvin Johnson, University of Illinois.

In March, Mr. Drummond left to take a position at Morgan Park High School in Chicago. Miss Marie Weck, a graduate of the University of Indiana, took his place.

We may not remember what they taught us, but there are other things we surely will remember: Miss Hinkel displaying the work turned in by her freshmen; Miss Koupal saying, "Save your money." (Yet she always insisted on payment of library fines.); Mrs. Jones greeting the Latin students with "Bon jour"; and Mrs. Bennett trying to persuade her eighth hour study hall to write for the We-Go. What girl will take a shower without thinking of Miss Gielow? Remember Miss Luecke always saying, "Where's your rubber band?" Mr. Byerly will always be thought of as coming in late. (Nobody ever made him get a slip.) Who is there that won't recall the time he was caught sleeping by Mr. Anderson? Just hear Mrs. Bryant saying in horrified tones, "No, I don't keep aspirins!" or Miss Nesthus saying "Send—to the office at once." Who'll forget Mr. Swanson's crooked index finger; Miss Weck's dramatic demonstration; or Miss Seward's untiring interest in school activities? Imagine Miss Zimdars growing up! Can't you see Mr. Cochrum playing with the fish and Mr. Bishop stalking about the halls, trying by use of his grin, to get the lovers of school to go home? Mr. Gamble and Mr. Johnson will be remembered as coaching the boys and making speeches.

Mrs. Jones, Miss Seward, Mrs. Bryant and Mrs. Bennett will not return next fall. We're very sorry to have them go, but wish them continued success in their work.

It had shall the program be? G. Jones.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

In September, 1927, the present senior class entered high school. We were taught all the things needful for freshmen to know. (and some others!) By October of that year we were deemed capable of electing officers, and selected the following people: Dorothy Anderson, president; Harry Seanor, vice-president; Iola Berndt, secretary; and Sterling Naill, treasurer. Even as freshmen, we took part in a large number of school activities and so were particularly well-equipped to become sophomores.

The officers of the class during the sophomore year were: Allan Bunker, president; Marvin Fish, vice-president; Sterling Naill, treasurer; and Paul Mefferd, secretary. During this year, we had the opportunity of teaching the class of '32 what the class of '30 had taught us by initiation. Also during this year, we presented an assembly program, produced some first place speakers, and edited an issue of the We-Go.

When we became juniors, we again elected members of the male sex to conduct class affairs. Marvin Fish was elected president; Kenneth Curran, vice-president; Edward Fairbank, secretary; and Thomas Lynch, treasurer. This year was marked by much participation in athletics, oratory, and other extra-curricular activities. When junior play time came, we inaugurated a new idea by putting on three one act plays instead of one three act play. The plays presented were: The Boy Comes Home, Grandma Pulls a String, and The Valiant. The final event of our third year was the junior-senior promenade. For the first time, it was held out of town,—at the St. Charles Country Club.

September, 1930 began what has been the biggest and best year of high school—our senior year. Again it was decided that girls were too weak to hold office and thus the boys manfully took up the burden. Edward Fairbank was president; Sterling Naill, vice-president; Ernest Benson, secretary; and Marvin Fish, treasurer.

Among the things accomplished during our last year were a reception for the freshman girls, a return tea for the juniors and faculty, participation by many boys and girls in athletics, public speaking, and club work. Most of the organizations were headed by seniors as presidents or captains.

The senior play was presented on class night and was the three act play, Mr. Pim Passes By.

The final thing for which our class considers itself outstanding is the fact that it is the largest class to be graduated from West Chicago Community High School—forty-seven members!

We believe that much of our happiness in high school has been due to the advice of Miss Koupal who has been our class sponsor for the past two years.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

Three years ago, between the gleaming portals of our great institution, strolled the class of '32, with the traditional hue coloring our bright soap-shining countenances. The "upper-classes" held bony hands over our young heads and bestowed their blessing upon us. The sophomores blessed us, too, but not in the gente manner of the seniors and juniors. However, we managed to maintain our dignity because of our pride.

For three short years we have battled the stormy seas. There have been joy and sorrow, but we have enjoyed every minute of our time. The class has made an earnest endeavor to uphold the standards of West Chicago High School. It has kept up the good old school spirit. We have had pleasant class meetings, and taken part in athletics, entertainments, speaking coatests, and dramatics.

At our first class meeting last fall, William Weber was given the position of class president; Lawrence Cheverette, vice-president; Betty Wiggerman, secretary; and Bob Vergie, treasurer. William Weber, Viola Vetter, and Harvey Sleep represented us in the student council.

The boys have made a fine showing this year in athletics. William Weber was high-point man of the school in basketball. Richard Buss played the important role of light-weight captain; several others played on both light and heavy-weight teams. The girls' record will speak for itself: the junior girls tripped away with the tournament. We've had quite a "sporty" year.

The girls' teas have been quite the social events of the season. They had the misfortune to present one such function on the afternoon that the new gymnasium apparatus was installed. Some of the senior girls forgot their place among the stars and had a "ripping" good time.

Two class members received honorable mention in the extemporaneous and declamatory contests. Raymond Kautz gave an excellent speech on the Versailles Treaty, and Roland Starck distinguished himself in the declamation with a reading about the French Revolution.

Our plays caused much comment (favorable and otherwise). There were three one-act plays, instead of one long drama.

The final success of the year will be the annual Junior-Senior Promenade, held at the St. Charles Country Club.

The class of '32 will lose a great friend next year, for Miss Seward, our class advisor, is leaving West Chicago. We wish to thank her for her kindness and helpfulness this year, both as a teacher and advisor.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

After finishing a year of being freshmen, the class of thirty-three returned to school this fall with one thing fixed in their minds. They were no longer "green" freshmen, and they were going to prove it by giving the new freshmen a really honest to goodness hard initiation. The new Sophomores did this, and certainly showed the freshmen their places.

About a week after school started the "Sophs" had their first class meeting. Here they nominated and elected their class officers. The ones elected were: Royal Day, President; Ruth Sieman, Vice-President; Eldred Lee, Treasurer; and Frederick Buchanan, Secretary.

February twentieth the Sophs put on a patriotic program. The program consisted of a play, "Solemn Pride" which dealt with a letter Abraham Lincoln sent to Mrs. Bixby, a mother who lost five sons in the Civil War. In addition to this, four girls and four boys of the sophomore class showed their ability as Minuet Dancers. Last but not least Edward Brosseau, our promising orator, gave a forceful speech on the kindness of Lincoln.

Athletics were not neglected by the sophomore class. Practically all the boys went out for football, basketball and track. Even if not all were successful they, at least, showed We-Go that they had tried. Ray Werdell, whose folks do not allow him to play football, went out for Cheerleading, and bashful Ray got on the squad. Two of our most important athletic men were forced to drop athletics for a year; Royal Day who was hurt at the York-We-Go football game, and Louis Wolff who received injuries from an unpleasant sleigh ride. Almost all soph girls joined the G. A. A. and made fairly good showing in the inter-class tournaments. May Wolff, Delphine Chesnut and several other girls were outstanding girl athletes.

At the end of the year the "Soph" put out the last edition of the We-Go. Fred Buchanan and Florence Adda Bishop were elected editors-in-chief. The business part of the paper was taken care of by Glen Lynch and La Von Kremer. Thomas Linton was elected Joke Editor, while the rest of the "Soph" class acted as English censors. This capable staff published a reputable We-Go.

We owe much of our success to our class advisor, Mrs. Jones, and the "Soph" class of 1930-31 should like to take this opportunity to thank her for the help she has given us in making our sophomore year so pleasant and successful.

HEAVYWEIGHT FOOTBALL

With the opening of school on September 2, Coaches Gamble and Johnson issued the call for football candidates for the season of 1930. A squad of twenty-five heavyweights responded to don the moleskins.

The outlook for the heavyweights was very bright, for the only losses from graduation were three linemen and two backs.

The season was opened successfully at Batavia with the Blue and White defeating the Belgians, 18 to 8. Although they are only a few miles apart, this was the first meeting between the two schools on the football field.

The first home game, with Yorkville, was a memorable one, as the light We-Go backs galloped over a dry field to a 20 to 0 victory.

The conference season was opened at York with West Chicago playing its greatest game of the year. The first half was all West Chicago, with York on defense almost all the time. The second half was marked with the loss, through injuries, of Royal Day, star fullback and Capt. Mackert, center. Greatly weakened by the loss of these mainstays on defense and offense West Chicago was forced to take an 18 to 0 defeat. Day's injury kept him from the game the rest of the season but Mackert returned for the last two games.

With a patched-up lineup West Chicago faced Riverside and was held to a 6 to 6 tie in a very evenly played game.

The trip to Maine proved disastrous, as We-Go was defeated by the fast Maine aggregation, 27 to 0. Maine forced the Blue and White on defense right at the start and got away to a good sized lead in the first half, which she held throughout.

Determined to enter the conference win column the Blue and White anxiously awaited the contest with Downers Grove. Combining a passing and running attack, West Chicago proved too strong for Downers and won, 12 to 6.

Greatly inspired by their victory over Downers Grove the We-Go stalwarts worked hard for the next game with their traditional rivals, Glenbard. Sent off by a rousing pep meeting, and loyally supported by We-Go followers, the Blue and White started with determination at the opening whistle, and pounded its way to a 13 to 0 lead at half time. In the last quarter Glenbard rallied for a touchdown, making the final score 13 to 7.

The last game of the season, with Hinsdale, was played on a muddy field where the light We-Go backs were at a disadvantage. West Chicago was on defense during the first half but managed to keep the Red and White from scoring. In the second half, however, Hinsdale pushed over two touchdowns to win 13 to 0. This game was the last in the careers of ten seniors as representatives of West Chicago.

First row: W. Jaeger, E. Buchardt, R. Curran, E. Besch, L. Smith, M. Fish, R. Lounds, F. Buchanan.

Second row: Coach Gamble, W. Dilworth, D. Player, E. Lee, O. Curran, J. Hummel, E. Fairbank, T. Lynch, V. Simon, Coach Johnson.

LIGHTWEIGHT FOOTBALL

About forty lightweights turned out for football last fall. This was the largest squad of "ponies" ever assembled in We-Go history.

Coach Johnson had to build almost an entire new team, as he had suffered great losses through graduation and promotion to the heavyweight squad.

In the first game with Batavia the "Lights" lost 12 to 0 but showed a good defense. Many opportunities to score were thrown away as the backs repeatedly fumbled within the ten yard line.

The second game was with Elgin Lightweight B team and though they outplayed their rivals the Blue and White were held to a scoreless tie.

In the first conference game at York the "Lights" were beaten 18 to 0. The We-Go defense was strong but they were handicapped by their weakness on offense within the scoring zone.

Riverside's fast lightweight team trampled the home team 32 to 0.

At Maine, West Chicago played a high brand of football with both teams about even the first half. In the last quarter Maine succeeded in putting over a touchdown to gain a victory of 6 to 0. West Chicago's final drive for a touchdown fell short.

Downers Grove found the We-Go line too strong and was forced to be satisfied with a scoreless tie.

Glenbard proved too tough for the Blue and White, and they pushed over three touchdowns to win, 19 to 0.

The final game with Hinsdale was very evenly contested and the We-Go "ponies" gained their third scoreless tie of the year.

The final statistics for the season show: Games Won, 0; Lost, 4; Tie, 2; % .166.

Although the Lightweights did not win any games, the team this year showed a fine determination and not once did they slacken their pace and quit trying.

The Lights lost four men through graduation. Fish, who was co-captain with Besch, was unable to play after the Batavia game because of an injury.

First row: J. Carey, K. Curran, E. Benson, W. Mackert, W. Matthews, W. Weber, L. Singletary.

HEAVYWEIGHT BASKETBALL

West Chicago placed third in the West Suburban basketball standing, Hinsdale being second, and Riverside first. West Chicago scored the second-highest number of points against its opponents, with Riverside taking first honors.

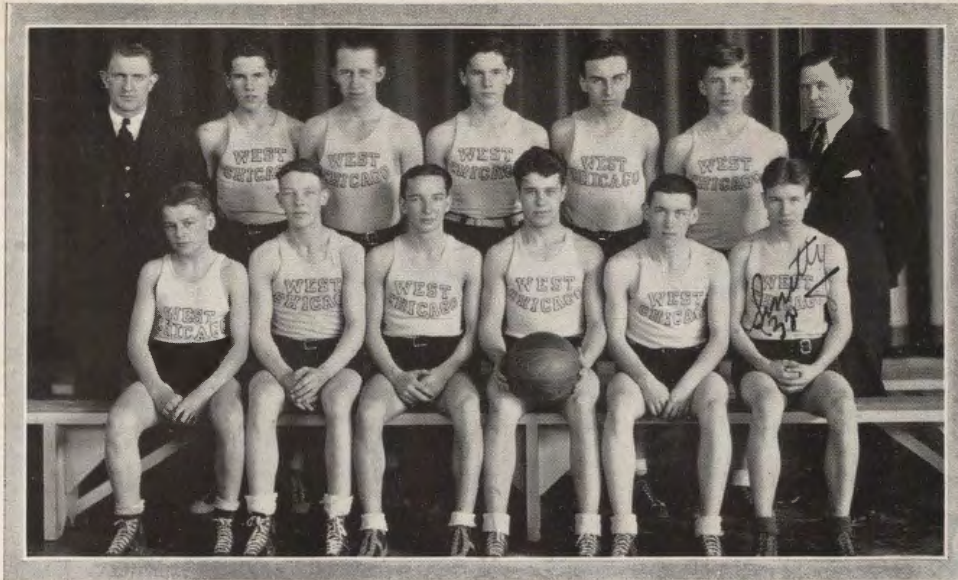

The man who is primarily responsible for the good showing of West Chicago in Athletics in the last two years is Coach Don Gamble. Coach Gamble took charge of Athletics in the fall of 1929, and since that time there has been a steady improvement in all branches of Athletics in the school. In 1929 he managed to pull West Chicago out of the cellar in football. In 1930 West Chicago placed in a fourth position tie with Maine in basketball. In football of that year We-Go tied for fourth place with Hinsdale, due to Coach Gamble's excellent coaching. In the 1930-31 basketball season the Blue and White team placed third.

We hope that this upward trend in Athletics is only a beginning of what the teams of the coming years will accomplish.

Scoring 409 points against their opponents 453 points, the Blue and White teams went through the 1930-31 basketball season rather successfully. Statistics show that the team lost more non-conference games than conference. Out of nineteen games played, West Chicago won eight and lost eleven. Out of twelve conference games played, West Chicago won seven and lost five.

On November twenty-sixth, 1930, West Chicago opened their 1930-31 basketball campaign. Having just put their football equipment in moth balls, the boys could not seem to get accustomed to basketball. Elburn and Hinckley defeated the Blue and White team 38 to 20 and 30 to 13 respectively.

December 12 marked the opening of the league season. West Chicago defeated Downers Grove 24 to 23 at We-Go. December 19, Hinsdale defeated We-Go 20 to 5 at West Chicago. The Blue and White travelled to the DeKalb invitational tournament on December 22 and was defeated by Sycamore 18 to 10. We-Go played Fox Valley on January 3 and took the short end 15 to 16. West Chicago met Maine on January 9 and was victorious 18 to 12. Elburn came along and defeated the Blue and White 42 to 11 on January 16. The next evening We-Go upset York 25 to 17. West Chicago played Glenbard at the home court and won a decisive contest 35 to 23 on January 30. On the thirty-first the Blue and White travelled to Downers Grove and lost 21 to 15. The next week, February 3, West Chicago travelled to Riverside and lost a fast game 33 to 22. February 6 We-Go travelled to Hinsdale and defeated Hinsdale on their own floor for the first time in West Chicago's history. The score was 34 to 19. February 11 saw the Blue and White defeat Maine at West Chicago 39 to 21. February 14 We-Go sunk Hinkley 31 to 15, at West Chicago. We-Go travelled to York on February 20 and lost an exciting game 20 to 18. February 21, West Chicago lost their second game to Riverside 30 to 19. On February 27, West Chicago wound up their conference schedule with a 31 to 25 victory over Glenbard at the opponents gym.

First row: F. Buchanan, D. Player, E. Burton, R. Buss, H. Sleep, L. Smith.

LIGHTWEIGHT BASKETBALL

Our lightweights started the 1930-31 basketball season in a determined and convincing fashion. Although their opponents outscored them 274 points to 223 points, the team placed in fifth position, which is an improvement over the standing of previous years. The team showed a fine fighting spirit during the season.

The season opened on November twenty-sixth with the ponies defeating the Elburn cagers on the local floor, 13 to 9. For the next game the boys travelled to Hinckley and put on a last quarter rally to win, 22 to 16.

The regular conference schedule opened on December 12, and our boys started out in the right way to take a thrilling game from Downers Grove 13 to 11 at West Chicago. The next game, which was also a home game, proved to be an exciting affair with We-Go victorious by a 10 to 7 score. January 3 marked another non-conference game with Fox Valley High in which the local boys were victorious, 12 to 10, on the home court. On January 9, the team travelled to Maine and lost a thriller by a 10 to 9 score. The next week, January 16, the boys played at Elburn and won by the same score as in the pre-season game, 13 to 9. The next evening, January 17, the boys bowed to York on the home floor, 25 to 14.

Due to the death of one of the members of the coaching staff at Riverside, the Riverside-West Chicago game, scheduled for January 23, was cancelled until a later date. The next game was on January 30, at West Chicago. The boys were defeated by Glenbard, 25 to 14. On January 31, the team lost their return game at Downers Grove 17 to 6. The boys travelled to Riverside on Tuesday evening, February 3, and lost to the league champions, 30 to 11. On the following Friday, February 6, the team visited Hinsdale and won by a score of 19 to 16. The Blue and White lads never forgot the early season defeat at Maine and so they played a determined brand of basketball on February 11, to win out, 23 to 17. On February 14, the Blue and White ponies dropped a game on the home floor to Hinckley, 16 to 10. For the next fracas the boys travelled over to York where they were set back, 25 to 16. The boys played the champion Riverside quintette February 21, and lost the second game of the season to them by a score of 24 to 12. February 27 marked the finale of the 1930-31 basketball season for the lightweight team. This final game took place on the Glenbard floor and West Chicago met defeat, 16 to 9.

Two of the lightweights were selected to represent West Chicago in the district tournament, along with eight heavyweight members. The boys were Oliver Curran and LaVerne Schleuter.

The senior members of the lightweight squad who played their last games for W. C. C. H. S. are Edward Burton, Thomas Lynch, and Edward Fairbanks.

A great deal of credit is due to Coach Johnson for the excellent way in which he molded this year's team.

THE VARSITY CLUB

"We, as representatives of boys' athletics in this school, in order to promote and achieve a better standard of school spirit, to create a better spirit on the teams, to secure the ideals of good sportsmanship at all times, and in order to give support to all functions in our school which make for the betterment of the school" have brought into existence the Varsity Club.

The Varsity Club was organized during the football season of 1930. There were fourteen charter members. To become a member the person has to have a large letter which he has earned in any of the sports in the school. There are a few exceptions to this rule. If a boy, who has been out for athletics before, has been unable to earn a letter; but has earned two numerals, or has been injured while out for athletics and cannot participate again, he is entitled to apply for a membership. All those who wish to join this club must fill out an entrance blank and then be approved by the club members and the executive committee. This committee is made up of five members. They are: Kenneth Curran, La Verne Schleuter, Harry Seanor, Mr. Gamble, and Mr. Johnson. The last two are advisors to this club. The officers of the club are as follows:

President	_____	Kenneth Curran
Vice-President	_____	James Carey
Secretary	_____	Royal Day
Treasurer	_____	Herbert Schleuter

The boys admitted to membership during the year are: L. Singletary, M. Fish, O. Curran, W. Mathews, V. Timm, E. Fairbank, V. Simon, T. Lynch, and L. Smith. The idea of the club in requiring a large letter for membership is to encourage the freshmen to come out for athletics such as football, basketball, and track.

During the school year this organization gave two school dances with the aid of our school orchestra. It also talked up the idea for the freshmen to come out for track so that in future years our school would have a good track team.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Although their meetings were held at very irregular intervals, the Student Council accomplished many important things during the year. A few weeks after the beginning of school, the council met and elected officers. They were:

Robert Waskow	_____	President
William Weber	_____	Vice-President
Kenneth Curran	_____	Secretary-Treasurer

One of the major projects dealt with was whether our school would be listed with the names of those planting a tree in memory of the bicentennial birthday of Washington in 1932. After some discussion the project was passed in the affirmative. The matter of student Athletic tickets was brought to the attention of the Council. It was decided that the sale of these tickets be taken up again, for the benefit of those loyal supporters who follow the team through all their games.

Some lesser matters, such as students marking up the bulletin boards and freshmen boys running around in the study halls were given careful consideration, and immediate action was taken to quell them.

In an effort to create a greater interest in college among the seniors, the girls of the Council kept a college bulletin board. Pictures, pamphlets, and notices of scholarships of some of our leading colleges and universities were displayed.

One morning in October a meeting of all the freshmen was called. Some of the council members gave talks on "School Spirit," "School Athletics" and "School Activities." The talks were given to encourage the freshmen to participate in the activities about school, and to support the projects which are undertaken by the classes, clubs or the school as a whole.

The members of the Student Council for the year 1930 and 1931 were: James Carey, '31; Robert Waskow, '31; Harriet Reuter, '31; Kenneth Curran, '31; William Weber, '32; Viola Vetter, '32; Harvey Sleep, '32; Evelyn Kautz, '33; Florence Ada Bishop, '33; and Douglas Culp, '34.

Mr. Bishop was sponsor to the organization during the year.

First row: I. Berndt, V. Berndt.
Second row: M. Lynch, Miss Gielow, D. Tinnes.

G. A. A.

The first thing done by the newly elected officers—President, Iola Berndt; Secretary-Treasurer, Mae Lynch; Social Chairman, Viola Berndt; and the Sergeant-at-arms, Dorothy Tinnes—was the sponsoring of a membership drive by making posters. One hundred girls were eligible to take part in the unique party given for the initiates, October 31.

The first sport Miss Gielow tried to teach us was field hockey. We learned very easily how to wreck each others shins. Some of the girls swung the sticks as if they held their favorite drivers, until Miss Gielow's slightly hoarse voice called "sticks".

Soccer, basketball, volley ball, and baseball tournaments took up the girls' time during the various seasons.

The annual rainbow basketball tournament was held March 12, 13, 14. There were nine teams, each with a color and name of a state. The Iowa team, Scarlet, won after quite a hard struggle. Marie Cull captained her team to victory.

Another new feature marked this year. Two swimming parties went over to the St. Charles Community House. Some girls waded, were ducked, splashed, dived, and oh yes, some swam. A good, wet time was had by all.

Ever since we joined the Illinois G. A. A. we have entered in play days at other schools, but this year we held one of our own, May 23. The visiting schools—Geneva, West Aurora, and Naperville—had ten girls each as representatives. The girls who represented West Chicago were Dot Bollweg, Catherine Zeier, Viola Kroning, Lillian Richardt, Phyllis DeGaris, Mary Mulcahy, Jennie Pesetski, Mable McGee, Frances McAleese, and Kitty Stevens. About ten o'clock, the girls gathered to be put on either the orange or green teams. They chose their team captains and then were told what to do. Folk dances, games, relays, volley-ball, baseball, a treasure hunt and wrestling were the active sports in which the girls participated.

At noon, the girls gathered under the grove of trees on the campus for a picnic lunch. Songs were sung, the convocation was given, and the awards were presented to the winning team. Two o'clock marked the ending of West Chicago's first play day.

Instead of the annual picnic at Potawatomi Park, the G. A. A. went to the Chicago Cub Park by Miss Gielow's suggestion. This game and the giving out of well earned awards ended a year of good times. The many good times and the new activities entered into were largely due to Miss Gielow, our sponsor.

First row: H. Foxen, Miss Koupal, D. Bollweg.

PEP CLUB

The Pep Club was organized in 1925 and is an organization open to all girls of the school. Its purpose is to promote better school spirit. The Club started out on its years work very early, the first meeting being September 25. Officers for the year were nominated and elected at the next meeting. The officers are:

Helen Foxen	President
Dorothy Bollweg	Vice-President
Edna Rohr	Treasurer
Eleanor Kautz	Secretary

To Miss Koupal, our adviser, goes the credit for a great deal of our success. There are forty-one members in the club: eleven seniors, nine juniors, six sophomores and fifteen freshmen.

The annual banquet for the basketball and football boys was given March 10, in the Lincoln Gymnasium. The decorations were blue and white. The speaker of the evening was Mr. Gordon Fisher, coach of North Central College, Naperville. (The snow storm didn't stop him!) Mr. Gamble, Mr. Johnson and some of the boys also spoke.

The girls sold candy after school (that was the reason for the mad rush in the lower corridor every evening after school) and at the home basketball games. There was $235 worth of candy sold (hard times?) this year. This means there were 238 boxes or 7,140 bars sold, which entitled each person in school (teachers, also) to 26 bars.

Each year it has been the custom of the club to add a few new plants to the ivy already planted. This year ten plants were added. (The reason for all the rain between May 5 and 9 was that the ivy needed it.) Miss Koupal and the officers planted the ivy on April 30. (If it doesn't grow, we know whom to blame: Mr. Anderson dug the holes!)

SOCIETAS LATINAS

Societas Latina, the Latin organization of our school, has had an especially interesting year under the direction of Mrs. Jones. This organization was started last year for the purpose of making Latin more interesting.

To be a member of the club it is necessary to have completed one year of Latin and also to be taking a foreign language at the time of entering the club. The present membership is twenty-four.

The business of the club is conducted in the same manner as the old Roman government—with two Consuls corresponding to the president and vice-president; the Scriba corresponding to the secretary; the Aerari Praefectur corresponding to the treasurer; and the Censor like the sergeant-at-arms, who sees that all dues are paid promptly and that order is kept at the meetings.

The meeting night for Societas Latina was the third Tuesday of every month. These meetings were usually followed by programs pertaining to the customs and habits of the Romans. The program committee prepared several interesting programs which were enjoyed by all. Those who served on that committee were: Pauline Birkholtz, Robert Vergie, and Floyd Gridley. An initiation was held for the first time this year, and a program was given at which the Science Club members were guests. The program consisted of a play showing how many of our English words are derived from Latin. Those who took part in the play were: Eleanor Grames, Elizabeth Henderson, Floyd Gridley, and Robert Vergie. After the program, dancing was enjoyed.

The last event of the year was a picnic at which everyone had a good time.

The officers who served the club for the past year were:

Frederic Buchanan	First Consul
Jane McNeeny	Second Consul
Blanche Mailander	Aerarii Praefectus
Eleanor Grames	Scriba
Pauline Birkholtz	Censor

WE-GO

This year, the seventh year of its publication, the We-Go was edited by a staff composed entirely of seniors, with the exception of the class reporters.

The year began with the election of a staff from the senior English classes. This staff served during the entire year and was responsible for the publications. The staff elected was:

Kenneth Curran	Editor-in-Chief
Marion Bulow	Associate Editor
Robert Waskow	Business Manager
Sterling Naill	Circulation Manager
James Carey	Sports Editor
Iola Berndt	Girls Athletics
Catherine Zeier	Exchange Editor
Harry Seanor	Sports Reporter
Wilda Williams	Senior Reporter
Betty Wiggerman	Junior Reporter
Delphine Chesnut, Ray Werdell	Sophomore Reporters
Mary Todd, Douglas Culp	Freshmen Reporters
Alberta Kruse, Florence Kline	We-Go Typists
Harriet Reuter, Marion Ehredt	We-Go Typists
Mrs. J. C. Bennett	Sponsor

The staff, working under the direction of Mrs. Bennett, devoted itself from the start to putting out a good paper. They adopted a two-column wide editorial column to make it more attractive to the eye. They also established a sport page. Up to this year the sports news had been scattered throughout the paper at random, and the sports fan had to search diligently for his news. Under the new plan, the entire back page was devoted to sports and was distinguished by the headline "Sporting News".

The most significant achievement of the We-Go for this year was the recognition received by it from the Illinois State High School Press Association. As a member of the Association, the We-Go sent two representatives, the Editor and the Sponsor, to the Annual Convention at Urbana. The paper was entered in the publications contest, and there received distinguished merit rating for all-around merit.

The last issue of the newspaper was edited by the sophomore class, as has been the custom for a number of years, in order to give the underclassmen opportunity to acquire journalistic experience. Miss Seward served as sponsor to this issue and the class put out a very commendable number.

LITERARY CLUB

A long felt need was filled during this school year when the Literary Club was organized.

Miss Seward, along with many of the students, stirred up feeling on the subject until the demand for the club was great enough to warrant its organization.

After a few preliminary meetings to discuss needs and plans, Mrs. Bennett was appointed sponsor of the club. Soon after, officers were elected, the following people being chosen:

Marion Bulow	_____	President
Marion Corell	_____	Secretary

Later two members were appointed to act on a program committee with the officers. These people were Viola Vetter and Lulu Brown.

The purpose of the club is fourfold: first, to promote an interest in good literature through the West Chicago Community High School; second, to give to the individual a means of gaining the power of expression in drama, debating, and discussion; third, to develop the art of creation in writing among the members of the organization; and fourth, to help furnish original assemblies for the school.

At first, the club hoped to divide into sections to specialize in specific fields. However, due to the difficulty of getting meeting times, it was decided at least for this year, to work all together.

The first meetings, aside from business, consisted of miscellaneous programs, but the final meetings were devoted to the study of modern drama and dramatists. Galsworthy, Milne, and Ollivent were among the playwrights selected for study.

Besides the regular meeting, the Literary Club sponsored an assembly program at Christmas time at which the moving picture Scrooge's Christmas was shown. On April 17, the organization sponsored another program—this time commemorating Arbor Day.

The membership of the club is open to any student interested in literary work with the exception of freshmen. Freshmen were excluded so that more advanced work might be carried on and also so that the group would not be too large to work well.

Due to the fact that no dues are charged, the club had no parties, but depended on its programs for enjoyment.

It is the aim of the Literary Club, next year and in the years to follow, to divide into small groups to do more concentrated work so that it may contribute more worthwhile things for the members and also for the entire school.

The Club will be sorry to see its sponsor, Mrs. Bennett, leave.

THE EDISONIAN SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club has completed a successful year under the able supervision of Mr. Cochrum, our new science instructor, and the officers and chairman of sections.

Although the Science Club has not given many programs and entertainments, the members who joined the various sections of the club enjoyed themselves and also furthered their knowledge of biology, airplanes, stamp collecting, photography and chemistry.

The biology section was very active and produced a "Biology News" which contained many useful and interesting facts about biology. The large aquarium was filled and balanced by the members of this section.

The Science Club financed the sending of six delegates to the Junior Academy of Science at the Peoria High School, Peoria. Our club had the honor of electing the President to the Junior Academy of Science for the past year. Edward Fairbank was the student who received this distinction. The Biology section won second prize at the Junior Academy with the two small, balanced aquaria which were transported to Peoria with a great deal of difficulty.

The officers who served the club this year are: Robert Waskow, president; Truman Naill, vice-president; Frances Wiggerman, secretary; Anna Foxen, treasurer; Catherine Zeier, historian.

CHORUS

Under the direction of Mr. Swanson, the chorus met every Wednesday morning and spent an enjoyable hour singing popular tunes and old favorites. This year membership in the chorus was open to all students whereas previously it had been limited to freshmen.

THE GIRLS GLEE CLUB

After all the girls had sung "ah-ah-ah-ah-ah," Mr. Swanson decided that only thirty-six did it sufficiently well to become members of the glee club. The girls were pleased to become acquainted with their new instructor, Mr. Lloyd Swanson, who came to us from Kansas.

The students who held offices were:

Eleanor Kautz	President
Iola Berndt	Secretary-Treasurer
Catherine Wolff	Librarian
Helen Foxen	Assistant Librarian

Of course, it was to be expected that the new girls would not be able to sing their best until they were properly initiated. Therefore the old members planned a thorough initiation for October 29. The new members celebrated the event by coming dressed in queer apparel, carrying such useful articles as brooms, waste-baskets, and dolls. The evening was spent in dancing and listening to a varied program given by the initiates, (Ask Louise Schultz to tell the story that she and Kenneth Curran originated about the three bears!)

In order to prevent the usual difficulty over uniforms, the school decided to buy robes for the girls. The gowns are very attractive: they are long, peacock blue in color, with white collars and armoured shoulders. Unfortunately the robes were not here when the picture was taken. The Glee Club is much indebted to the school for buying the lovely gowns.

The first appearance of the girls was at an assembly before the high school students. This program was really a rehearsal for the concert of May 8. It was on that date that the girls made their debut in the new robes. In spite of the small crowd, it was a most successful concert.

The next appearance of the girls was at a program given at the Geneva High School. Although there was not a regular Musical Festival, Glenbard invited all the schools of the West Suburban Conference to participate in a concert at their high school on the evening of May 15. Mr. Swanson took the Glee Clubs to represent our school. The members of the Glee Clubs spent a very enjoyable evening. Not satisfied with the usual number of appearances, the Glee Clubs agreed to sing at the morning church services of the various Churches of the city. The final appearance of the Glee Club was June 12 when they sang for the commencement program.

THE BOYS GLEE CLUB

At the beginning of the school year, on a certain day, one might have seen what looked like a "free for all" before the main bulletin board. It was the scene which always occurs when the Boys Glee Club list for the ensuing year is posted. There emerged from the struggle both disappointed and happy faces; those who were thinking regretfully of the good times they might have had, and those who were looking forward expectantly to the good times they were sure to get by being members of the glee club.

The officers were:

John Carl _____ President
 Thomas Lynch _____ Secretary-Treasurer
 Charles Rupp, Harry Seanor _____ Librarians

The boys found it necessary to have rehearsals Tuesday noons and Fridays after school. This was perhaps a more inconvenient time than the other musical organizations had to rehearse, but with their usual good spirit the boys agreed to this program and stood by it loyally through the whole year. In order to be on time Tuesday noon it was either necessary to have lunch in the school cafeteria or run to and from home. Some of the boys even went without their lunch on occasions.

Then the glee club settled down to its regular routine and, using some new numbers and some which were more familiar, they began to prepare them for the several programs ahead of them.

One of the most enjoyable occasions during the year was the glee club party for the boys' and girls' glee clubs. The main feature of this party was the dance, the music for which was furnished by the high school dance orchestra. Excellent refreshments were served in the cafeteria, at the close of the party.

A little later the boys made their first appearance by singing two or three numbers before the student body. Although some of the boys were a little shy at first they pulled themselves together and everything went all right.

Not long after, they were invited to sing for the Lion's Club where they were received very enthusiastically.

Then came the glee club concert which was given jointly by the boys and girls. For the first and last pieces the boys and girls sang together and between these each glee club sang a number of pieces. This concert was concluded successfully and was attended by a very appreciative audience.

The boys in the glee club have had an enjoyable year together, the memories of which will linger with some of them for a long time.

THE ORCHESTRA

On Tuesday morning, way back in September, strains of music poured forth from room sixteen. The orchestra had been organized and had started work.

The group hardly fitted in that small room, for this year there were thirty-four musicians in the organization. Eight of these members were grade school students.

The following officers were elected for the year:

Raymond Kautz	President
Leonard Smith	Secretary
Frederick Buchanan	Librarian
Herbert Carl	Librarian

Sh! We'll let you in on some of the things that took place in the music room on Tuesday and Friday mornings. At eight-five the noise started. Ray danced about from piano to first vio'ins, from first violins to seconds, to see that all the instruments were tuned. Our blond director raised his baton and after about five minutes, weird chords, in untimely rhythm, developed into a beautiful waltz. Margaret had the habit of stopping in the middle of a solo to giggle about something funny that Smitty said. It was not an unusual event to hear the crash of Herby's or Fritz's drum during a rest. Poor little Josephine stood by faithfully sawing on her big bass viol whether the rest of us were playing or not. The bell rang and everyone (except Leona—because the piano is pretty heavy) hurled his instrument to the winds and dashed to the door.

The orchestra made its debut in a concert given May first. Florence Bishop and Emery Karwaski played solos. The orchestra performed before the student body and at the commencement exercises.

Smitty's dance orchestra, too, deserves mention. This was made up of: Leonard Smith, Charles Rupp, Fritz Buchanan, Lawrence Cheverette, LaVerne Schleuter, John Carl and Marion Correll. They played for our school dances and for the dances after basketball games. We're certain they could furnish stiff competition for Louis Panico any time.

First row: K. Adamson, W. Wheeler, G. Simmons, L. Phillips, E. Goetz, K. May, J. Jones, M. Fink, R. Fink, A. Frese, J. Phillips, G. Carl.
Second row: R. Matthews, J. Kerner, F. Kress, E. May, M. Sproat, L. Murray, J. Hustack, V. Vetter, B. Carlisle, R. Greenwaldt, C. Wescott, L. Smith, E. Benson, C. Rupp.
Third row: J. Dieter, E. Hustack, D. Schramer, J. Zahnan, V. Dettman, W. Williams, F. Buchanan, M. Correll, R. Curran, R. Kautz, B. Raffety, S. Dilworth, H. Seanor.
Fourth row: W. Dilworth, J. Williams, J. Hitzman, H. Carl, C. Vetter, F. Vergie, D. Anderson, J. Carl, G. Jordan, Mr. Swanson.

THE BAND

The band has had a very successful year. It is composed of forty-six members, including the grade school members.

The following officers were elected at the beginning of the year:

Charles Rupp	_____	President and Manager
Leonard Smith	_____	Secretary
Harry Seanor	_____	Librarian
Richard Curran	_____	Assistant Librarian

Much more was accomplished this year than in preceding years because there were two rehearsals a week instead of one.

In the beginning of the year the school purchased an oboe and a bassoon which added to both the appearance and the tone color of the band.

The members of the band had many good times throughout the year. They played for all the home basketball games, and had the privilege of seeing these games, admission free. Perhaps they helped the boys win. On April second the band gave its annual concert, which was well received. The band looked very snappy, as every member was in full uniform. April sixteenth the band played at the Count Von Lueckner program, and enjoyed his talk very much. He complimented the band on its good playing, which made the members happy.

During February and March, the band worked very hard on its contest numbers. Last year it had placed first in the district contest at Naperville, and fourth in the State contest at Urbana. This year, however, because the band was in class "B", and the competition was much keener than before, the band had to content themselves with fifth place. The members are already practicing hard for next year's contest.

Monday, May 18, the band presented a program to the Children at the convalescent Childrens' Home at Prince Crossing. Judging from the applause, they enjoyed the music very much.

Anyone who enjoys a good time and is willing to work will find the band a good organization with which to affiliate.

DRAMATICS

On March 20, the junior class presented their annual plays to the public. They followed a precedent established by last year's Junior class, in presenting three one-act plays instead of one three-act play.

In the first play, "Sham" Roland Starck played the gentleman crook excellently. He was ably supported by Edward Brosseau as Charles, the owner of the apartment which was being robbed, and also by Pauline Birkholtz, Charles' wife. Carol Miller made an able reporter. The play was cleverly done and the actors threw themselves into the atmosphere.

"The Trysting Place" is a humorous play. It is the story of a young boy of seventeen and his first love affair with a widow, Mrs. Curtiss. Lawrence Cheverette played the part of the boy and kept the audience laughing. Betty Wiggerman admirably portrayed the pretty young widow. But that was not the only love affair. The boy's mother (Eleanor Grimes) and Mr. Ingoldsby, the wealthy bachelor (Leonard Smith) put on a remarkable love scene in spite of their supposed old age. And then there was Anita Gaede as the boy's sister, and Floyd Gridley as Rupert Smith, her lover, who is mortally afraid of her mother. And last of all, there was the Mysterious Voice. When the voice was first heard all immediately recognized the stentorian tones of Harvey Sleep. The play was very entertaining. All the actors filled their parts well.

In "Submerged" tragedy and pathos were expressed. The audience was thrilled by the picture of men trapped for three days in a sunken submarine. They were moved to sorrow by sacrifice of a brave man who went to certain death to save his comrades. They saw the pitiful sight of a coward who could not stand to look death in the face.

The scene opened with a group of men in the gray steel compartment of the submarine. They were unshaven, dirty, and half dressed. The sweat coated their bodies and they were having difficulty in breathing. Raymond Kautz played the part of the commander who offered his life for his men. Richard Buss portrayed the typical "tough" gob, hard as nails but with a heart. LaVerne Schlueter, with a realistic accent, took the part of the happy-go-luck Cockney Englishman. Albert Schommer played the part of the hero and showed how a brave man can sacrifice his life for others. Robert Vergie, played the difficult role of the coward, and did some effective work, especially in the last scene when he was left alone in the submarine with the water rushing in.

After the junior play, held on March 20, the next dramatic events came May 6, when the preliminary declamation and extemporaneous speaking contests were held. Of the declamatory contestants, Leona Ramsdell, reading "White Hands of Telham," was selected to represent the school at the conference meet which was held at W. C. C. H. S. on May 21. Edward Fairbank was awarded second place and Roland Starck, third place. This year each school in the conference selected two extemporaneous speakers to compete in the conference meet which was held at Riverside on May 20. Robert Waskow and Marion Bulow were the two people selected from West Chicago. Raymond Kautz was selected as the alternate.

"Mr. Pim Passes By" is the three act play chosen for the seniors to present on Class Night, June 10, 1931. It is humorous in a clever, quiet, way rather than riotously funny. The scene is laid in an English country estate, the incidents taking place all in one day. The characters are: Mr. Carraway Pim, a somewhat absent-minded professor type who although only a passer-by upsets the equilibrium of the entire family. Mr. George Marden, a true Englishman, conventional, conservative, stubborn who owns the estate. George's wife, who has been living happily with him for five years—Olivia Marden who has George right where she wants him. Dinah, a sweet young thing impulsive, affectionate about to become engaged to Brian Strange, a handsome young Futuristic artist. Lady Marden, George's aunt of sixty years still a vigorous specimen of blooming health. Anne a quiet, unassuming maid. The play depends upon witty, appealing dialogue rather than heavy action. The cast is as follows:

Mr. Carraway Pim	_____	Kenneth Curran
Mr. George Marden	_____	Edward Fairbank
Olivia	_____	Claire Kellogg
Dinah	_____	Helen Foxen
Mr. Brian Strange	_____	Robert Waskow
Lady Marden	_____	Eleanor Kautz
Anne	_____	Alberta Kruse
