WEST CHICAGO · ILLINOIS

Thank You, Mr. Bishop . . .

A few remember you when you first began your service here in West Chicago. In 1926 you came here a young man with high ideals and hopeful dreams for educating youth. You served as assistant principal and physics teacher until 1942, when you became principal . . .

. . . some of us remember you as the average citizen active in community life—a man with a quiet humor and benevolent manner . . .

. . . and all of us remember you as our teacher, our principal, and our friend.

Table of Contents

OPENING PAGES

1-4 West Chicago is people, learning, activities, bound together in the spirit of developing the future.

AROUND THE SCHOOL . . .

29-66 Doing only homework for 180 days can get dull, but activities varying from reporting for the newspaper to testing the theories of electricity in the Science Club make the school year fun and truly educational.

FACULTY

5-12 The faculty is the guiding force that instructs, molds, and works with the future.

SPORTS

67-82 No one is complete with only an educated mind; an educated body is also a necessity. Winning or losing, the teams that have represented West Chicago fought hard.

GRADUATES

13-28 Graduation for a senior is a time of reflection; for it is the step between adolescence and adulthood.

GRADUATES UNDER-

83-94 High School is a preparation for adulthood; this is the goal and occupation of every underclassman.

. . . Will Remember . . .

Above left: The Dads will remember the night they sat in the rain to watch their sons play the last Varsity football game of the season.

Above right: Those who knew Principal Bishop will remember the dedication of the Samuel D. Bishop Memorial Gymnasium, December 9, 1960.

Right: The senior girls will remember the senior boys congregating on the steps every morning before first bell.

Below: "Bugs" Barthell will never forget the original experiment of oxidizing carbohydrates and then testing for carbon by the taste method.

ADMINISTRATION

Board of Education

Our best wishes go with our graduating class in their future endeavors. May the same determination shown in completing their high school programs serve them well as they undertake new adventures in education or the working world.

We look forward to another year of interesting and rewarding work with returning underclassmen next year. With your diligent application to the tasks at hand, we shall strive to provide you with the best educational opportunities possible.

As we close this school year, I wish to express my personal appreciation to all who have contributed to making my first year with you most enjoyable. It has been a pleasure to work with this fine student body, faculty, Board of Education, and community.

John Weyrauch, Principal

Guidance in Youth

Miss Winifred Thomassen (left) and Maryanne Brown are probably the two best known people in this school. In the principal's office their co-ordination of our school lives makes our education smooth, efficient, and fun. Miss Thomassen also instructs students in bookkeeping.

Mr. John Delap (left), guidance counselor, and Mr. Ralph Scott, visiting teacher, often consult one another over the academic and social problems of students. Mr. Delap's office is frequently visited by many of those who are college bound.

A cheerful smile goes a long way towards curing any illness. Combine this with competent technical knowledge and you have our school nurse, Mrs. Roberta Anderson.

We (subject) are learning (verb)
through (prep.) languages (o.p.)

The field of language is vast and varied. Good usage of our own language, English, is necessary for success in any occupation. Foreign languages provide an insight into the lives of other peoples and their methods of communication.

Pictured above during a departmental meeting are our six English teachers. From left to right: Mr. Donald Nemanich, English I and II; Mrs. Lillian Kons, English III; Mr. Dean Burgess, English II and III; Mr. Russell Severe, Department Head, English IV; Mr. William Johnson, English I and speech; and Mr. Don Morrison, English I, IV, and journalism-creative writing.

With the advent of the Space Age the importance of mathematics and science has greatly increased.

On page 9 is Mrs. Marie Balzhiser, Algebra I, in the unending task of grading papers. The numerous mistakes of students has often caused her to exclaim, "This is why teachers get white hair!"

Mr. Donald Byrkit, Algebra II, Math. IV, and geometry, explains the Associative Law of the Algebra Sets.

Teamwork in teaching is the key to creating interest in science among the students. Showing the capacity of the human body to conduct electricity, Mr. George Barthell (left), chemistry and physical science, and Mr. Richard Howard, physics and geometry, demonstrate with a student. Inset is Mr. Roger O'Neil, biology teacher.

MATHEMATICS

Science₃ + Math₄ ^(brain power) → A knowledge of the future

SCIENCE

Although you may never become a professional seamstress, learning the arts of homemaking is essential to every young woman. Mrs. Grace Edson, pictured left, of the Home Economics Department checks over an example of a student's work.

The shop courses offer a basis for the future study of industrial arts and general knowledge for practical application. Pictured right, Mr. David Dean (left) and Mr. Charles Cowden (center) of the Industrial Arts Department show a student how to polish a salad bowl.

APPLIED ARTS

To Earn a Living . . .

In the fall the first music groups to perform were the marching and pep bands which played at both home and away football games. However, the orchestra and chorus during the Christmas season were the first to give a formal concert. All three groups sent students to the Fox Valley Music Festival and the All-State Music Activity. Among the changes in the Music Department was the installation of a chapter of Modern Music Masters under the co-sponsorship of Mr. Sargent and Mr. Kent.

Besides sponsoring a trip to the Art Institute in Chicago and giving several student exhibits, one of the major activities of the Art Department this year was combining with the Music and Drama Departments to present George Gershwin's musical comedy, "Girl Crazy."

SOCIAL STUDIES

We doubt if even our five social science teachers could have agreed on the outcome of the 1960 presidential election, but they're no different from the 170 million other people in this country.

Mr. Richard Schwartz (left), assistant guidance counselor and world history teacher; Miss Elizabeth Mahoney, American history; and Mr. James Smith, American government, check the latest magazine poll.

Five physical education teachers—just enough for a basketball team! Any challengers?

Looking back on the last four years, the average senior student of the class of 1961 will probably say, "Where has it gone to so fast?" Many accomplishments, scholastic, sports, and social, have filled these most important years.

In the freshman year the first class officers, Chuck Wilde, president; Jim Radow, vice-president; Kathy Weimer, secretary; and Roberta Roloff, treasurer, were elected. With their leadership and the guidance of our advisor, Miss Norma Stahl, we scored points of accomplishment with our Homecoming float "We Go Strikes Tonight," and gave our first dance, "Spring Fever."

Miss Marlene Geiken helped the sophomore officers Dick Mayer, Gerry Timm, Kathy Weimer, and Roberta Roloff make our second year a successful one with the Homecoming Bonfire and Snakedance, the float, "Bulldogs Bark Up Wrong Tree", and the all sophomore dance, "Olympic Rock".

The prom, "Southern Twilight," and our class play, "Time Out for Ginger", were the highlights of the junior year for the class of '61. The junior officers, Dick Mayer, Gerry Timm, Dave Sauer, and Nancy Neilson, with the help of Mr. Roy Kiiskila and the new class board planned the all-school dance, "Autumn Moon", and the first prize Homecoming float, "Beet 'Em".

The senior year began with winning first prize again for the Homecoming float, "Can 'Em", and with the Homecoming dance planned under the guidance of the senior advisor, Mr. James Smith, and class officers, Dick Mayer, George Kveck, Kathy Weimer, and Nancy Neilson. This final year, filled with many extra curricular activities and studies, is interspersed with final preparations for the future: college plans, scholarships, and part-time jobs insuring us a successful adult life beyond our years at We Go High.

Mike Ball, first soprano clarinet; Harold Giese, second soprano clarinet; Rich Nagel, alto clarinet; and Ronnie Anderson, bass clarinet, formed a mixed clarinet quartet that participated in a We-Go Ego recital.

A member of our drum section, Mike Cain, tunes the timpani before a band rehearsal.

Barb Scharf, Marcia Alm, Bethel McClung, and Mary Grubner joined together as members of We-Go Ego for a clarinet quartet in the recital.

Music Outside of Class

Standing: Substitute Marcia Alm, Karen Kammes, Joan Keck.
Kneeling: Captain Madelyn Schommer.

Drum major, John Azer.

The main function of the marching band was the halftime entertainment at all the home football games. For each of the games a new program was performed. Two were designed to highlight the presidential campaign. One night was Dad's Night for all the fathers of the boys on the team. For Homecoming the band marched in the parade and dedicated the halftime show to the Homecoming Queen. Then at Christmas time the band joined the Santa Clause Parade. On May 30th the band participated in the Memorial Day Parade. The majorettes twirled at all home football games and all home conference basketball games.

Our trumpet trio, Mr. William Sargent, Bill Stewart, and Dave Sauer rehearses while Leanne Mantz accompanies them.

Mike Ball rehearses for a solo with the help of some of our string players.

West Chicago Community High School, West Chicago, Illinois

April 1961

'Challenge' Welcomes 'Centurion'

The processes used in putting out a newspaper involve careful planning and a wide range of talents. A newspaper is born in the minds of its editors and sponsor. This first step in planning occurs in its staff meetings for the Centurion, formerly the We-Go. The news, feature, and sports editors then give assignments to individual reporters. After the reporters have gotten the necessary information and written it in journalistic style, the assistant editor-in-chief arranges for the typing and proofreading of the copy. The copy is then sent to the West Chicago Press to be set in columns of newsprint called galley. One set is proofread and returned to the Press; the other set is used to lay-out the paper the evening before publication. Lay-out consists of arranging copy, writing headlines, and determining type size. The printed newspapers are then distributed to members of the student body, faculty, and community, and exchanged with newspapers of other schools.

With the initiation of a journalism class in the 1960-61 curriculum, it was necessary to set up a rotating editorship, enabling class members to gain experience during nine or eighteen week periods. The editors-in-chief were Pat Carey,

Beth Goodwin, Chuck Wilde, and Charlene Yagel; assistant editors-in-chief were Chuck Wilde, Charlene Yagel, and Pat Carey; news editors were Beth Goodwin, Bill Spencer, and Henriette Willeumier; feature editors were Sue Owen, Kitch Rupp, and Beth Goodwin; and sports editors were Chuck Wilde and Pat Carey. Ann McGraham and Joan Marotzke served as typists; Charlene Yagel and Dennis Michael proofread; and Henriette Willeumier wrote headlines. Faculty advisor was Mr. Don Morrison. Other members of the student body and journalism class acted as reporters and assistants.

On April 6, 1961, the first phase of this year's election of new National Honor Society members took place. On this date the new members were presented with the traditional blue and yellow ribbons signifying their election by the teachers on the basis of leadership, scholarship, character, and service. The seniors elected in 1961 were Barb Scharf, Kitch Rupp, Judy Mileski, John Azer, Rich Vedder, and Dennis Michael; the juniors were Marsha Sauber, Estelle Ast, Mary Margaret Miller, Joy Meriam, Bonnie Roberts, Rae Anne Hitzman, Pat Carey, Beth Goodwin, Andie Tinnies, Fred Johnson, Keith Sponholtz, Mike Wehman, Dick Jahns, Pat Alden, and Paul Miller. These presentations took place the first few minutes of the classes throughout the day. Then on April 13, in an assembly during homeroom, the electives were formally initiated in a candlelight ceremony. At this time they received a pin and a membership card. That evening the new members and their parents were guests of honor at a dinner attended also by the members elected last year, their parents, and the faculty.

The officers of the Student Council for this year, 1960-1961, were Dennis Michael, president; Jim Rakow, vice-president; Rae Anne Hitzmann, secretary; and Paul Miller, treasurer. The first work of the council was informal speeches to freshmen homerooms. Then came Homecoming of which the Student Council acted as a coordinator for the remaining clubs and groups that participated in the planning. In October they helped the town merchants to plan a Halloween party given for all high school students in West Chicago. The Council sent representatives from the junior and senior classes to Rotary meetings throughout the year. They gave a dinner, inviting school board, faculty, Student Council members and their parents. The theme of the dinner was to promote the idea of a foreign student in our school. Other work carried out through the year was maintaining of the refreshment stand and checkroom during home basketball games.

Homecoming

On October 7, 1960, we welcomed home previous We-Go grads. Preparations were begun weeks in advance; but the festivities began Friday afternoon, the seventh, with the crowning of the queen, Jayne Schommer. We continued with a colorful, exciting parade. The Senior Class also continued in its record; their float took first place for the fourth year. Unfortunately, we did not win our football game with Naperville that night, but spirits were revived 'on Saturday night with a dance sponsored by the Senior Class.

Highlights of Year

This season we were honored by having four players named All-Conference by the Little Seven Coaches. They are from left: first, Howie Olson, tackle; third, Bob Price, defensive safety; fourth, Dick Jahns, defensive line backer; fifth, Tom Hodson, quarterback. Second from left, Don Duszynski, was elected "Most Valuable Player" by the team.

History repeated itself again this year. The Wildcats won only one football game. For two years in a row our only victories were over Mooseheart. Suggestion for next year: tackle the Ramblers first so we start off the season better and have more confidence.

The first thrill of the season was when Tom Hodson made a 15-yard touchdown run against Batavia. In the third game this was the first touchdown of the season. From there the offense clicked, but the defense was poor.

Team spirit was high throughout the season. The frosh-soph pigskin record was two wins, one tie and five defeats. We'll hope for the best from them next year.

Co-captains Gerry Timm and Bill Mertes helped keep up team spirit throughout the year.

In this shot of the Mooseheart game Mackenzie, No. 44, is leading interference for Hodson, No. 13, around end.

In the Frosh-Soph game against Mooseheart, it's Jim Thompson, No. 61, carrying the ball.

Tom Weigand, No. 11, dribbling against Marmion.

Although most of our school basketball records are still held by Glen Sponholtz, a few were broken this year by Gerry Timm. In our last game against Mooseheart Gerry scored 40 points helping the team to set a "most team points scored in one game" record—99. He also had the best free throw percentage for the season. With 86 free throws attempted and 66 made his percentage was 77.

Bob Price, No. 25, goes by his man in game with Marmion.

For the second year in succession our varsity team came through with a good record. They won 15 games and in conference play they fared better than ever, finishing in third place. We-Go was led this year by Gerry Timm and Tom Hodson who averaged 18 and 14 points per game respectively. Completing the first team were three juniors: Keith Sponholtz, Bob Price, and Tom Weigan. With this nucleus next year should be one of the best, if not the best, cage seasons in We-Go history.

in Dual Meets

Helping our wrestling team to win over half its matches were quite a few good wrestlers. They also did an outstanding job in three tournaments this year. In the Elmwood Park Tourney Beltowski, Hindes, Mertes, and Hammer placed first and Neumeister and Vedder placed second. In the Little Seven Meet Mertes and Vedder received first place awards while Hindes and Johnson placed second. In the District Tournament Mertes placed first in the 133 lb. division and Vedder placed second in the heavyweight division. The spirit of the wrestlers was very good this year. They all worked hard in getting up publicity to have the meets attended, and the response which the student body gave was well deserved.

Nice going, Tom.

The team gathers around Mr. David Dean in preparation for their matches.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

Junior Class

The class of '62 has much spirit and energy to go with its large size. After entering high school as bewildered freshmen, we soon began to grow and learn scholastically, socially, and athletically.

Our main activities were participating in homecoming and sponsoring our class party during our first year. In the spring we sold candy to help finance our class party, "Springtime Serenade".

As sophomores we thought we knew practically everything about getting along in high school. Under Miss Lucado's (Mrs. Thornhill) careful supervision, we presented an all-school dance, "Green Mist", which was our biggest undertaking so far.

Since we had ordered our class rings the year before, we received them in the fall and they really made us feel like juniors. "Scratch 'Em" was the slogan for our homecoming float, which was our most clever float idea yet.

We gave a Thanksgiving dance, "Autumn Whirl", for all the school. During the rest of our junior year we were kept busy with the class play and giving the prom.

Sophomore Class

Class officers: Margie Herman, Bill Szorc, Larry Brucher, Kathie Jahns.

The Class of '63 is no longer "green freshmen" but "up and coming" sophomores. We have learned much since that first day we entered high school.

As freshmen our first big project was our homecoming float, "Cut 'Em Down". We didn't win any prizes with it, but most of us learned a lot about how things should be done. At the end of the year we had a play night, "May Madcap", which was a big success. We even made a profit.

To start off a successful year as sophomores, we had a picnic to get acquainted after the summer vacation. Our next highlight was our homecoming float, "What am I doin' here?", which won second place. After that we sponsored a dance, "A Little Bit of Heaven", which was enjoyed by all.

Executive Board: Don Fairbank, Nancy Tapken, Candy Stultz, Margie Herman, Bill Szorc, Larry Brucher, Kathie Jahns, Mark Hawkins, Larry Nelson, Randy Cue.

The freshmen class consists of 175 students including four sets of twins. With the help of our class advisor, Miss Stahl, our first major project was our homecoming float with the theme "Cream 'Em" which was a big success.

After the hectic activities of homecoming we began to consider candidates for Student Council. After much debating we elected Jane Carry, Martha Heinz, George Lookwood, Mary Ann Reardon, James DuMolin, and Judy Thielan.

Our class, being very eager and civic-minded, has abundant talent, particularly in music and athletics. Some of the best musicians in school are from our class. We have been credited for founding a chapter of Modern Music Masters in school, a group which will definitely promote musical activities in the community. We have contributed much to the various sports offered in school and have shown much spirit and determination which will guarantee good teams and games to come.
