This was another very unique year. Problems in construction of the new wings, begun in the summer of 1977, forced a delay in the opening of school for two weeks, until September 11. Immediately the weather was more than a topic of conversation. Heavy rains brought a flood, necessitating the closing of school on Wednesday, September 13. On Friday, December 1, snow fell so heavily that school was dismissed on one o'clock. Our first snow-day was Thursday, December 7. (It was fun then.)

Big snows fell during Christmas vacation, and a real blizzard occurred on the weekend of January 12 and 13, dumping an additional 20.7 inches of snow. As a result there was no school Monday and Tuesday, January 15 and 16, the original exam week. On Friday, January 19, we were dismissed at three o'clock because of ice. We came back for a new exam week, but on Wednesday, January 24, so few students could arrive that school was dismissed at 11:15. We were out again on Thursday, January 25.

Semester exams were finally given in regular class periods on Monday January 29. Over ninety inches of snow had fallen, but we had "survived the blizzard of '79."

Workmen with wheelbarrows, drills, and bricks continued to work in the midst of our usual - or unusual - activity. More renovated classrooms gradually became useable, and the new learning resource center opened January 2, late enough to allow some students to escape writing the usual research paper.

. Classrooms Pool Pit Experiences.

By basketball season students had moved from the "gymateria," but hot lunches were not served until March 26. The ffieldhouse was ready on January 23, and We-Go hosted its first indoor track meet on February 17. By April the electronics lab was "hooked up" and new home economics rooms were finished. The long awaited pool opened on May 17. Eventually the snows melted; workmen laid sod and painted signs. On Sunday, May 20, the new areas were formally dedicated, and a new era had begun.

Students Prepare For Careers

DAVEA (DuPage Area Vocational Educational Authority) Center in Addison offers thirty-one courses to students from thirteen high schools. One hundred twenty-six We-Go students completed courses this year. Richard Waterhouse is the Vocational Education Coordinator.

Chuck Shelton - Vehicle Operations.

Dan Beck - Aviation Maintenance.

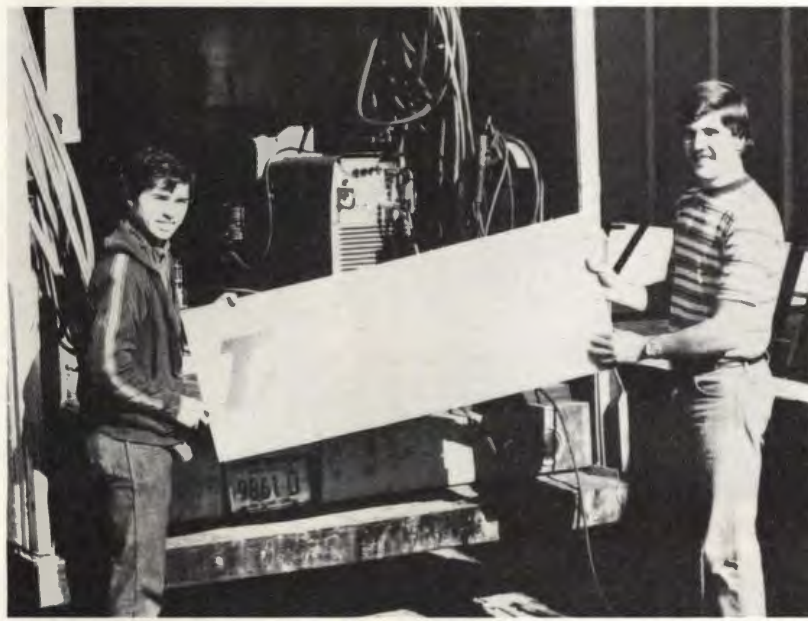

Amy Klingburg - Cosmetology.

Students Learn and Earn

IRO (Interrelated Occupations) provides students with on-the-job training in various career fields as well as classroom credit. Students go to school in the morning and work in the afternoon. (See VICA, page 113.) CWT (Cooperative Work Training) also provides vocational training. CWT formed a club this year which helps students expand their social and career related experiences.

Where's Guidance?

As the building additions and renovations progressed the Guidance Department kept moving: in the summer to Social Studies Room 148, next to the stage, then to English Room 217, and finally to new rooms in the south addition. Here there is a central area, with doors leading to the general offices and Commons, surrounded by nine smaller rooms for counsellors.

The Industrial Arts Department is divided into four main areas: Woods, Drafting Electronics, and Metals. Each area offers three courses, ranging from general, to advanced, to specialized. Both Drafting and Electronics labs were moved to new rooms, and the Electronics lab received new equipment, which was finally installed during the last week in March.

Students Learn Foreign Cultures

The Language Department offers courses in three foreign languages: French, German, Spanish. (Latin was recently dropped). Students traveled to grade schools in the area to show incoming freshman what foreign languages are all about. The French classes went to a French movie and restaurant; German classes enjoyed a German opera; and Spanish classes went to Chicago to tour Mexican and Spanish neighborhoods, eat at a Spanish restaurant, and attend a Spanish movie.

New Learning Resource Center

On January 2 the new LRC finally opened. Three times the size of the old center, it includes a classroom, media production lab, TV studio, faculty workroom, audio-visual department, and a security system. Its placement provides easy access to Commons, guidance, and offices. Students especially enjoy its spaciousness and its listening and viewing areas.

Homecoming '78

We-Go helped Mickey Mouse celebrate his fiftieth birthday by choosing him and other Walt Disney characters as the theme for Homecoming '78. Seniors dominated events by painting a winning window and making a first-place float for the parade on Friday, October 13. They also won the hall decoration contest, tricycle race, and spirit stick. (Juniors did win T-shirt day.) Although the flag-football game was missing and the Cats lost the football game, the bonfire, October 12, and dance, October 14, provided many happy Homecoming memories.

"Open Sesame," Julie Janaes, Carol Armbrust, Alice Adamo, Sheri Kerner, Julie Warrick, Kelly Krafft, Vicky Zambrano, Kathy Miessler, Pam Kerner.

Seniors Tom Frick, Judy Progo, Cyndy Heier, and Terry Armstrong are victorious in the tricycle race.

"Off to Work We Go," IRO-VICA float, driver Doug Van de Mark, Don Matias, Laura Potts, Laura Fitzenreider, Tammy Davis, and Sharon Hill.

A Haircut Is A Happening

The big game against Wheaton North, who was leading the conference, was coming up. If shaven heads helped Falcons, it could help Wildcats. Suddenly hairless football players appeared. Impetuously Coach Parker promised that if We-Go won, he would get clipped too. The Cats got that victory, 27 to 7. On Tuesday, October 24, THE HAIR CUT took place in Bishop Gym at noon. TV crews, headed by Tim Weigel of ABC, recorded it all for the 6 o'clock news.

"... And Then There Were None"

The stage became the living room of a house on Indian Island, off the coast of Devon, England, on Friday and Saturday, November 17 and 18, when students presented "Ten Little Indians" by Agatha Christie. Nancy Crawford, assisted by Thom Wierenga, directed the three-act play in which ten guests, each a killer who had escaped punishment, are murdered according to the victims in the nursery rhyme. Wondering who would be next and who was the murderer kept them (and audience) in suspense.

Christmas Around The World

Language Night, an annual event to promote brotherhood and knowledge of other cultures, was held December 4. Language clubs presented skits on the Christmas theme in the Auditorium. In French Club's skit a Christmas fairy found a little boy to carry on the Christmas spirit. Spanish Club's skit portrayed a mother telling her daughter about Joseph and Mary in Old Mexico. German Club performed "The Night Before Christmas" in German. Refreshments, representative of each culture, were served in the new cafeteria.

"Fiddler On The Roof"

Anatevka, a small Russian town, was the setting for the musical "Fiddler on the Roof," presented April 19 - 21. Cheri Turner and Student Terri Jaskula directed the cast. Music Director Gene Haney and the orchestra provided the musical back-up. Student crews were led by Costume Mistress Nancy Crawford, Art Director Gail Adams, and Lighting Director John Walton. Linda Nichols supervised make-up and created many beards. Thom Wierenga and Jeannie Fenton choreographed the dances. New Look For The Bridge

The 78-79 school year was eventful for the Bridge. In November five editors, a staff member, and Advisor Timothy Courtney traveled to St. Louis to participate in the National Journalism Education Association Convention. Features editor Dee Rouse placed third in the headline and copy-editing competition. In January the Bridge had a face-lift. A new style of lay-out was employed, giving the Bridge a new, professional-type look and making lay-out quicker and easier.

Challenge

FRONT: Laura Macko, Linda Jakopchek.
CENTER: Janet Salvatore,
Advisor Virginia Fairbank,
Co-Editor/Photographer Daniel Plomb.
BACK: Co-Editor Susan Secondi and Lisa Block. (Margaret Barry,
Jane Collins, and Julia Purdom
each laid out a few pages but were unable to stay on the staff.)

We were part of a special year in the history of the school and in our lives. Often when one is in the midst of an experience, he thinks he will never forget it, but he does. It is our hope that this book will preserve this unique year. We survived the construction work, the inconveniences (What time is it anyway?), and the blizzard. We are ready to meet the next challenge.

WHAT'S NEXT?
