CHALLENGE 1994

Beware!

The "Cat" Is On The Lookout

Watch out, here it comes, A new year and a new WILD-CAT! Cats are vicious animals, whether it be the common household or the wild. The endless pursuit of their prey, the careful stalking, and then the kill, (which usually ends up on your doorstep), give them a characteristic all their own. Our Wildcat is one above the rest, he/she is willing to help others, achieve both academically and physically, and won't bring their food to your front step. Just remember for every cat that stays home, there is one that's ready for the kill.

— Carey Netzel

What are your predictions?

A first place Homecoming finish for the Juniors. — Jenny Cavaliere Coleman

I'm gonna flunk. — Tony Pontecorvo

I don't know, but all I can say is the Freshman will probably end up more annoying then they are now. — Lori Billick

Summer Fun!

Everyone needs a break once in while. Time to sleep, party, and eat, but for some to work. All that can be heard in the hallway is who had the best parties over the summer. "The Toga Party was the best!" said Trina Chalupa. Some went away to colleges for parties. Jenny Hays said, "The best parties were at Louis College." "Hey, Amoco had some real cool parties with Mr. Boones!" said Skye Studabaker.

Some went to some exciting places. Caroline Yong said, "Cheerleading Camp was really exotic!" Another cheerleader, Jenni Hauger, had some different ideas on what was exotic and she said, "Treasure Island was awesome." "I went to the beaches in California," said Kristy Caligiuri. Frank Trejo also went to the beach, but in Texas.

Unfortunately others didn't have such an exciting summer. Custodian Jerry Grimes was "stuck working here," but fortunately had a little break to go to the Dells ... "again." Others just had fun hanging out with their friends. Steve Chytry said the best part of his summer was, "hanging out with my friends Grant, Jim, Chris, Matt, Rene, Mark, Dave Cox, Mum daddy, and Dustin." Andy Grotto said, "I had fun meditating and drinking tea."

Summer always goes by so fast. Until next time have fun and don't let the cat drag you in.

New Year New Beginnings

The first day of school was full of confusion and happy moments, such as seeing old friends that you haven't seen all summer, or trying to find all your friends in the confusion of registering, and people going to the wrong classes. "Going to first hour P.E. when I found out that my schedule changed to first hour unscheduled," was one of the frustrations Tina Johnson had. Through all the confusion all Colleen Lasky can remember is, "Pushing all the freshmen out of the way trying to get through the halls." Natalie Kalck and Tierney Carlson were "Going crazy about finding people in our classes."

With the new lunch periods the day changed to a ten hour day from a seven period day. The reason for this is WeGo was getting more students every year and needed five lunch periods.

Some people just couldn't get over the fact that summer was over and all that lay ahead of them was homework, teachers, and no more sleeping in until sunset. That all that lay ahead of them was was SCHOOL!

A Sporty Homecoming

Cats Cover The School

Windy City sports teams was the theme of this year's Homecoming. The seniors were the Chicago Bulls; juniors, the Chicago Power; sophomores, the Blackhawks; and lastly, the freshmen, who chose to be the White Sox. This year's theme was used throughout window painting, floatbuilding, and the majority of Homecoming '93.

During the week of Homecoming, the seniors took it upon themselves to tee-pee the school. Some came out as early as Tuesday night to decorate, but it ended with a big surprise on Friday morning when the trees were covered in white. Anita Castellano describes the Para-Pros chasing the students away from the school, "It was exciting seeing the suburban drive through the front lawn."

The Homecoming football game was played Saturday afternoon before the dance. The varsity football team suffered a disappointing loss against Glenbard North. Half time activities consisted of presenting the Homecoming candidates and announcing the final results of the class competition.

Jerry Planek chugs a bottle of rootbeer to bring the juniors to a first place finish in the rootbeer drinking contest during Homecoming week.

Homecoming '93 was a success. Everybody seemed to have fun. Nicole Ybarra said, "I had a good time dancing with everybody else but my date!" Others had some rare experiences at the dance. Adam Owens said, "My date locked her keys in the car at Taco Bell." "The dance was fun, but too bad I had to hold up my date's dress all night," Eddie Gomez said. Skye Studabaker told about one of her rare experiences, "Jason is the worst driver. We were almost killed driving down the wrong side of the road." There seemed to be a lot about the dance. "We had the lamest DJ at the dance. It was like Disco Fever or something!" said Dana Nelson. Even though some thought that he had weird taste, he did play a variety of music at the dance.

There were a lot of things involved during homecoming week including float building.

Carmen Williams and Jason Rehmus prepare themselves for a great night of dancing.

Disco Fever

Adam Owens said, "It was fun having paper maché fights at float building." Juniors won first prize, Freshmen took second, seniors had third, and finally sophomores with last. A variety of events is what filled the week up with fun and there were also some events that took place without the whole school involved. Traditionally the seniors teepeed the school, not just once but three times!

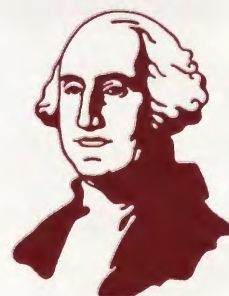

As for the Homecoming royalty of West Chicago, it seemed to be a nail biting week for those waiting to hear the results of who was to be King and Queen. Unfortunately there can only be one of each. This year's King and Queen were Miguel Perez and Betsy Co.

Hopefully Homecoming next year will be just as exciting as this year's.

Boo!

We are all used to that one holiday where people dress up and do wacky things. But we are not used to people going all out. Such as Jayson Rush, who dressed up as the old lovable Barney the Dinosaur.

Some other funny sights were Tweetie Bird, also known as Elizabeth Riter, and Tony Klingberg, who decided to go as a woman wearing a tight mini-skirt and little purse.

Even though it was cold on Halloween this year, many people still went Trick or Treating. Others stayed out of the cold by staying home and watching television.

Brooke Thompson's favorite memory of Halloween was, "Jessica Hubbs dressing as Magenta, from the Rocky Horror Picture Show."

Proving Excellence

Winter break flew by from the excitement of Christmas and the start of the new year. Most students could not do many of the usual winter things like building a snowman or having a snowball fight because there wasn't any snow, but there were plenty of other things to do. No matter what people did, they all enjoyed the time off.

-Jammie Ortiz

This was a school year to remember because West Chicago received the Blue Ribbon School of Excellence. This is an award given each year to an outstanding school for its hard work towards becoming a better school. It's also for the skills the teachers have and the students that work to become better students. Only 260 schools across the country received the award. As a school we will be proud of the honor for years to come.

A Second Chance

This year Home Ec. night got a second chance. Last year the Administration decided that Home Ec. Night was inappropriate. This year seemed to turn out besides a few minor problems. "It was a lot of fun and hard work, but the worst part was when I ripped my dress and it was heard throughout the whole auditorium," said Noelle Giammanco.

Others thought that it was not the worst, but the funniest. "I never laughed so hard when Noelle ripped her dress!" said Sean Rhoads. "It was a lot of fun, and funny when Ms. K. was freaking out," said Jenny Cavaliere.

This year was a little different than the past, such as the talk show, skits, and the cultural dance. Hopefully next year will turn out as well as this year's.

Bringing Home The Honors

The National Honor Society inducted about 102 juniors and seniors on May 24. Applications were sent out to those students who had a 3.0 or higher grade point average. After the applications were filled out, they were evaluated by teachers and applicants were rated on such qualities as character, leadership, and service to the community. Following the elimination, 20 new seniors and 82 juniors were inducted. Juniors who were inducted in NHS last year were automatically in it this year.

The Turnabout Dance took place from 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. on April the fifteenth. Turnabout was quite different this year. For one, several people went stag with a bunch of their friends. Senior Sheri Daleidan reminisces, "It was better than going with a date, because you don't feel committed to hang around your date the whole time."

The attire worn for the evening ranged anywhere from jeans to semiformal to formal dresses. The music also had a variety to it. It ranged from oldies to alternative to hip-hop. This night brought forth many memorable moments. Sophomore Jeff Adams recalls the funniest thing was, "when seniors Tom Grob and Scott Weber started dancing and everyone crowded around them." Over all, Turnabout was a huge success.

Prom: Full Of Promises

The Junior-Senior Prom "Faithfully" was held Friday, May 20. Juniors Joe Czernik and Candy Campbell presided as King and Queen of the night.

Included in the $30 ticket price per person was a meal of chicken, beef or vegetarian lasagna. Jenny Richards commented, "My chicken was swimming in butter."

Besides the food, there were party favors included in the charge. There were little silver memory books with attached pencils, key chains, and even the traditional confetti cups. Everyone had good things to say about those cups, including John Rakow, who exclaimed, "Those confetti cups rocked my world."

Of course, Prom is never complete without its problems. Peter Malave had seating difficulties, "Someone stole my chair," he stated. Jaime Seil had advice for future Prom-goers: "If you like slow songs, my advice is don't go stag!"

Most people who went to Prom used it as an excuse to stay out all night. Bennett Acosta thought, "Prom was fun, but it was much more exciting to go to the lake afterwards." Melissa Pagnozzi said, "Our dates took us to the Art Institute the following day. Ask Tracy Haugh about it." Haugh answered with, "It was a very unexpected surprise."

Although most students brought dates who were fellow WeGoers, some brought people from other schools. Martha Garcia was one of those people and said, "My date has gone to many Proms, but he said he'd never seen so many weird people in one place."

Commencement speaker Donald Zabelin plays his dedication to graduating seniors as Superintendent Joel Morris, School Board Members Gerald Landis and Maria Owens, and Principal Alan Jones listen appreciatively.

Jenny Ray and her family give a quick smile before going home to celebrate Jenny's big day.

Graduates celebrate their accomplishments with the traditional cap-throwing festivity.

The Ones To Watch

Commencement was held on Sunday, June 5. Business teacher Donald Zabelin spoke on what he knows best, investing in personal resources. He spoke in front of 255 graduating seniors and their friends and family.

Most seniors waiting for their diploma were very excited thinking about future life, future friends, and future parties.

Jose Munoz said, "I'm going into the Army for 2 years. It's a good start on life." Another Army recruit, Bill Kirk, said, "The big day is September 6.

That's when I'm going in."

Some summer fun-goers said they were just going to have fun in a fun way. Marie Pierce said, "After graduation I plan to work and have fun all summer until I attend C.O.D." Jon Barrett said he had the same plans. "I'm going to work real hard and save up for college while I reflect on my happy memories at West Chicago Community High School. (not)." Peggy Kosman summarized it all by stating, "I'm just glad it's over."

— Jeff Adams

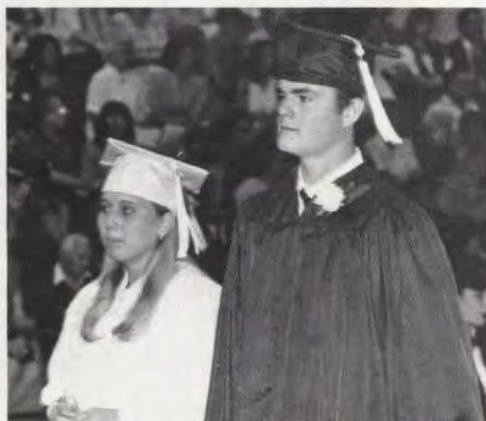

Rich Clark and Monique Cleminson listen intently to the graduation proceedings.

Cathy Carroll and Mark Centanni proudly enter Bishop Gym.

Dan Ventrelle gives a happy "I'm outta here" smile as Teresa Velasquez and Julie VanWallingham maintain a more subdued tone.

Janet Kirk and Bill Kirt proceed to their seats.

Seniors!!

Being a senior means being the eldest, being the most responsible, being a leader and according to Scott Weber, being "happy to serve as a role model to all the younger children of the school."

Senior: a student in the year preceding graduation from a school of secondary level. Being a senior often includes being the eldest. Here are some tips from the "wise" to the underclassmen: "Stick it out, it pays off in the end," stated Ben Kramer. Chris Leck explained, "Never engage in conversation when using the urinal." John Rakow cried out with emotion, "Never listen to anyone who wants you to dress up as a spirit stick."

Hard Times At We-Go

Most students were dragged into Junior year kicking and screaming. That's really not a surprise because everyone knows Junior year is stressful. There were so many things to worry about. Such as ACTs, research papers, and most of all Prom.

The ACT is a test for all students, especially those planning to attend college. Everyone wanted a high score to impress the college of his/her choice. Those that reached that goal were immensely proud of themselves.

The research paper which was required by all Juniors wasn't a whole lot of fun. They had to do a lot of research, planning, and organizing to get it done. Most thought the research paper was behind them until they realized more were to come. In college these kind of papers are common and not so easy.

Even though Junior year was a tough one, there were some special moments that everyone will enjoy remembering.

What Does The Cat Think

What was your most memorable moment in Driver's Ed.?

The second day of Driver's Ed, I was driving down on a side street and a transam stormed down the alley and I slammed on the brakes and almost got hit. It was scary. — Tina Johnson

When Scott almost ran into another car on the other side of the road. — Amber Aiken and Tierney Carlson

What was the funniest thing that has happened to you?

At the beginning of my freshman year, I accidentally walked into the boys locker room after gym, and they were changing. — Kristie Marcelle

I did that, too. Only, I was pushed in by two guy friends who thought it might be funny. — Jenny Charbonneau — Jennifer Prusko

Freshman year is supposed to be new and exciting, but it's not that much different from junior high. Sure the hours are longer, the teachers are stricter, but you still have the basics: lunch, study hall, P.E., and your friends! Decisions, Decisions, Decisions. Counselors start asking, "What do you want to be? What classes do you want to take? Then you have sports and clubs.

"Get involved" is the key word. There are plenty of ways for freshmen to get involved with the school. Sure more than half the freshmen are involved in extra curricular activities, but the rest of the freshmen have to get out and show their spirit.

We're Outta Here!

The retirees agreed on two things . . . that they are going to miss WeGo, and that the students here are great. "I'm going to miss everything; the students, the faculty, the programs; I liked everything," said Diane Bathje, math teacher. Karl Coyner agreed by saying the "students are fantastic."

Bathje plans to continue working with education after retirement, possibly with bilingual students or with student teachers.

Coyner, a chemistry teacher, has decided to go into industry, and P.E. department head Lorri Jordan planned to make use of her new motor home. "I plan to travel at least one-half of each year for a few years."

Roger Lincoln, electronics teacher, math department chair person Lee Yunker, and counselor Gene Peterson also retired after many years of service to WeGo.

Go Electives!

Electives at WCHS are an important part of the student's day. "Contemporary Life and Child Development are my favorite," said Caroline Yong. Yong took these classes because they sounded like fun and added, "I enjoyed the mock wedding. It was a great experience."

The foreign language department offers Spanish, French, and German, all of which are elective classes that can be taken. Cheri Winkler said, "Electives are a break from the regular academic day."

Some other electives are business, computers, and typing. These are classes that help students learn about the business world and everyday skills. "Typing was a great class to take; it will help me immensely later on in life," Aimee Miller commented.

Home Economics deals with a broad variety of classes including Foods and Nutrition, Contemporary Life, Child Development, Home Furnishings, and Clothing 1 and 2. "It was fun when we went skipping through Commons in Child Development. I really felt like a little kid again," said Janelle Parson.

— Jeff Adams and Carey Netzel

Your Prerequisite To Further Education

Required courses what are they, why are they important? Required courses are the classes students need to fulfill their graduation requirements. For college bound students these classes are just mere compared to the load of classes they will face in universities.

Each student makes up a schedule consisting of a minimum of 20.5 credits. The requirements are as follows: English three, social studies three, math two, science one, consumer education and American government one, P.E. one half/semester, and a combination of music, art, foreign language and vocation one; students are also required to take a semester long course of health and drivers' education.

While English, math, and science are stressed, there are other classes students can take to fulfill their requirements including: American Studies, A.P. Chemistry and English, and C3.

Keep those books open and pencils writing you're on your way to fulfilling your requirements.

— Carey Netzel

Eric Winkler takes good notes, a habit to have in the future.

After studying the signs and signals Declan Walsh seems to be a little apprehensive before taking the test along with Jason Weinmann.

English is my favorite required course because it is easy for me, unlike math and science.” —

Clubs On The Prowl

SADD, Pep club, and Intouch Clown. What do all these groups have in common? They're all clubs at our high school. They also help students see the dangers of doing illegal things or the advantage of building school spirit.

SADD, Students Against Drunk Driving, helps We Go and the community realize the dangers of drinking and driving. Over the Christmas season SADD members went around and tied red ribbons on all the cars around school. This was to make people aware of the dangers of drinking and driving.

The Intouch Clown Team presents skits on drug and alcohol abuse to the local elementary schools. They started an anti-smoking theme. The team goes to the eight elementary schools in the district and explains the problems caused by smoking.

Band Takes Honors

What does it take to be in band? Member Francine Mueller said, "I have been playing since sixth grade and to be in the band you would have started no later than sixth grade." Although it takes a lot of time and talent, the rewards are great. Erich Gernand was selected by audition for the Illinois Music Educators Association District Seven Honors Band for his performance on trumpet, and eleven students were chosen to perform at the Fox Valley Music Festival on April 25. Furthermore, 45 students competed in the IHSA Solo and Ensemble contest at Waubonsie Valley in March, earning 8 first place gold medals, and 7 second place silver medals for the soloists and thirteen medals for the ensembles.

Outside of band, some students also participated in Jazz Band, which played at sporting events and pep assemblies. The jazz ensemble included Brandon

Fantozzi, Scott Balsitis, Luis Alcantar, Kristy Leuze, Mike Leck, Ryan Tokarek, Kelly Baker, Ted Barszo, Stephanie Marine, Marissa Filippo, Chris Hauger, Josh Brown, Jason Smith, Erich Gernand, Dan Beerman, Chris Leck, and Richie Wadda. Jazz Band received an achievement award at the Reavis HS Jazz Festival in Burbank.

Band director Carol Kierzyk noted that this was the first year for a band camp, where students started to prepare for marching band before school began. Kierzyk added, "We had an excellent flag line — the first in many years." Colorguard members included: Co-captains Beth Keeley and Jill Loek, Alicia Anderson, Barb Conaway, Marisol Garcia, Jamie Kirts, Stephanie Masterson, Jessica Shinofield, Julie Vavrek and Karina Villa.

String It Up

Many of the Orchestra members participated in events beyond the four concerts performed each year. Jennifer Smith participated in the IL Music Educators Association District VII Honors Orchestra. In March Emily Brittain and Autumn Voakes received a first place rating at the Solo and Ensemble Contest. Other participants included Adam Fitzenrider, Melissa Lillie, and Smith. The annual Fox Valley Music Festival was April 24-25. Meg Breiseth, Brittain, Chris Brown, Erich Gernand, Lillie, and Smith participated in the 175 member Orchestra.

The String Quartet: Brittain, Melissa Buenz, Smith, and Jamie Symowicz, performed at the opening of the WC Public Library and many other community activities. As a group, they went on the annual tour of the WC Elementary Schools and encouraged 3rd and 4th grade students to begin playing a string instrument.

The entire music department went to Chicago to see Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. Before the performance, the group learned about the musical by watching a video and talking with members of the cast. The Orchestra had a fun, successful, and progressive year.

Makin' Music

The choral department at WeGo is a great one. It consists of 5 choirs; Concert Choir, Freshmen Chorus, Sophomore Chorus, Jazz Choir, and Madrigals.

They performed at their annual Fall, Holiday, and Spring Concerts. Another concert was added this year in the winter. Some students participated in the Fox Valley Honors Choir. This consisted of students from area high schools singing with clinicians from around the country. It was a great experience for anyone who attended.

— Rachel Owens

Creativity Takes Over P.E., Art, Dance Production

P.E. - for some is a pain; others think it's a fun way to stay in shape and learn new sports. The teachers make everything so much fun; there are competitions for volleyball and basketball, as well as free swim.

Don't you get tired of getting in trouble for doodling? Try enrolling in an art class. Don't worry art isn't just for students that love to draw, there are many different kinds of art: 3-D, clay sculpting, drawing, and pottery.

If you can't draw, but are artistic, there is also Dance Production. You are required to try out, however if cast, you produce and perform your own dances. "All Together Now" was the theme of the dances put on. Many variations of dance were displayed and fun was had by all.

Eventful Productions

Dramatic productions at WCCHS are always an experience to remember. The fall play was, "The Mouse Trap", a murder mystery by Agatha Christy. During the play, Matt Bowne said this about his dramatic debut, "It was great until Skye broke Ms. Hafertepe's lamp."

The Winter Play, "You Can't Take it With You", was a comedy in three acts about an eccentric family living in the 30's. "The play itself was only half the experience," said Nichole Cordin, who played Essie. A lot of other aspects contribute to the fun of being involved in a production. "Especially the Cast Parties!" shouted Cordin.

Everyone had their favorite memory. Tom Grob, who played the role of Kolenchov said, "Chris Ribe's floor lamps were funny." Rick Swanson clearly remembers one part, "when Grob body slammed Rob Scott."

Hello, Talent!

The musical Hello Dolly was a big hit with Rachel Owens as the lead. It was an old fashioned type of play with much singing and dancing. Hello Dolly was the last production for the seniors that were in it, and they will be happy to know that they ended their dramatic experience at WeGo favorably. “I think Rachel Owens gave the best performance I’ve ever seen,” exclaimed Michele Biring. “It was the best play I’ve ever seen in a long time,” added Sandy Butkovich. Genee Gerleve had other praise, noting, “I really liked the duet with Melissa Pagnozzi and Sarah Arthur.”

Help Is On The Way!

Peer Listeners is a group which has been here for sometime, yet some people are still unclear about what they do. Katie Leitherer explained its purpose as, "To be there for others, and also to help new students get accustomed to their new school." Sarah Toney had another perspective. "It lets them know the upperclassmen aren't out to get them." Peer Listeners is a group, which is made up of sophomores, juniors, and seniors, that was specially designed for the freshmen. However, not everybody joined for the same reasons. "It is very rewarding to help other people," said Jessica Aguirre. Carrie Dedic explained, "Reminiscing on my freshman year, I wish someone would have been there for me." Peer Listeners also plays an important role in the lives of freshmen. Becky Suerth and Kristie Marcelle both think it gives freshmen a chance to talk about what's going on in their lives. Kristin Mulley added, "We give freshmen someone to talk to who can relate to them."

Another important group is the Peer

Writing Tutors, which mainly focuses on the sophomores. To become a Peer Writing Tutor, you need to have certain qualifications such as, "To have good writing skills, and to be people persons," said Jillian Loek, "and to be chosen by our sophomore English teacher." Jodie Sutenbach thinks the qualifications are "responsibility, maturity, and being able to put up with all those hero stories again." So what is the importance of Peer Writing Tutors? "For some students the tutor's feedback is a breath of fresh air if they don't like their teachers," said Loek. Casey Lauer has a different view of their importance, "If they get stumped or can't think of a work, we pick their brain so they can answer their own questions." However, Peer Writing Tutors don't only look for those pesky dangling participles or for an incorrect use of a word, but they look for hands. Lauer explains, "If one (hand) is up we run over to help the person belonging to the hand."

Peer Listeners and Peer Writing Tutors are helpful groups which will stay here for a while.

Workin'

Stephanie Combs and Dylan Petersen take a break from work.

Kyle Molloy dreams of being a master chef someday.

DAVEA is a work-related program that gives kids the skills they'll need in the years to come. The students get picked up in the morning at school to be taken to DAVEA. While at DAVEA they give the students independent work stations and when help is needed they have trained personnel to help you over the hump.

CWT and Business and Technical Class are other work-related programs that teach kids hands on. They send you to work at local businesses just as if you were an adult or parent trying to raise a family. Of course these programs are all optional and they offer many courses such as: child care, accounting, secretarial, and business classes.

So you can see all three of these can play an important role in shaping the future of our students. Just remember this is real work. These are really helpful in finding a career you might want to chose too so maybe you should look into enrolling in some of their classes.

The Cat Dragged In ... Eager Leaders!

FBLA was very busy this year. The Future Business Leaders of America held many functions such as: the variety show, the celebrity auction, the Chain of Hope for March of Dimes, and the Northern Area Conference. The bowlathon for spinabifita, and adopt a grandparent are some more of FBLA's accomplishments.

Another very busy group is Student Council. This group helped raise money and put on all the dances such as homecoming, turnabout, and Prom. In February when California had the earthquake, Student Council sent money to the Earthquake Victim Fund. They also had a blood drive and adopted a whale. Mr. Wildcat and spring fling week are also part of the many functions Student Council has organized.

These two groups were made up of many dedicated members. They also helped better the school and community in many ways.

"Staying up until 2 or 3 am and making last minute corrections for our mock trial cases was rad!" commented team member Patti Bohac.

Math team competed against area schools in solving challenging math problems. Under the direction of math teacher Bob McCollum, the team finished 7th in the DVC.

The Scholastic Bowl team was quizzed on a variety of categories such as math, science, social studies, English and fine arts. "Even though JV was 0-7, we still enjoyed the van rides while we picked out prom dresses for the guys," said Jenny Charbonneau. The Varsity Scholastic Bowl team finished 5th in the DVC with a record of 2 and 7.

Helping Hands

Well, look what the cat dragged in . . . Key Club. Key Club is the high school version of the Kiwanis. They do various community activities, such as visiting the Marklund Homes and also visiting various nursing homes in the community. Why would anyone want to join Key Club? Damon Carlson gave an insightful reason — "I joined Key Club because it is the only club at WCCHS that focuses on the community and helping people right in your own backyard."

On Speech Team, only one student competed — Emily Conradt. She competed at the Wheaton-Warrenville tournament on January 8. On February 15, she also competed in the Regionals and placed a good third place in her first preliminary round. During the second preliminary round, she placed sixth.

VICA (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America) is also another group that does service oriented events, such as running the food drive every year around Christmas. Not to mention, they also sell concessions at the football games. If not for them, who would sell us the hot chocolate to warm us up? Each year, members from VICA go down to Springfield to compete.

Foreign Fun

Joining a FL (Foreign Language) Club is a good way to experience different cultural activities associated with the language and country it is spoken in. All three languages offered have exchange programs to participate in. During Spring Break, French students visited Grenoble, France. German and Spanish students visited Gunzenhausen and Costa Rica, respectively, over the summer.

Besides traveling, students get a taste of the country by seeing foreign films and trying the food. All three language clubs got together at Christmas for a party, and had a potluck dinner in the spring.

Spanish Club also rollerskated at Funway, German Club had Kaffeeklatchen, and French Club went folk dancing at Fermi Lab. These were just a few of the exciting things that the clubs had to offer their members.

Making A Better World

The students that belong to Art Club are free to show their artistic ability in many ways. Their projects included drawing, sculpture, painting, and much more. The club also painted the mural in senior hallway.

International Club held "La Carmes"; a party with many different activities for the members to participate in. The festival had food, a dance, and different booths including a kissing booth. At the end of the year was another party to raise money for the club. This one was held at Wheaton Bowl, but food, fun, and dancing were still present.

SEAC expanded the recycling program, earned a nation-wide charter for the school, and a grant from the IL Dept. of Energy and Natural Resources. President Pat Flanagan encouraged all students to participate in SEAC and, "to take responsibility for the maintenance of our environment. Now is the time more than ever to work toward a healthier earth."

Cat Drags In Talent

This was the first year of student directed One Act plays. The plays were Little Red Riding Hood, Why Do We Laugh?, Imagine, Love, Death and the Prom, and Seniority. They took a lot of practice and were acted out with talent and enthusiasm. Each of the five acts told a story. Some told morals, some were comedies, and others were totally serious.

Guten Tag! Bonjour! Hello! French and German plays were full of creativity, talent, and no doubt lots of practice. Shows ranging from Three's Company to Aladdin were performed during the French Plays. The German plays ranged from Twilight Zone to Star Wars. Both foreign plays were filled with comedy and really got the crowd going.

Although the Poetry Club does not perform for audiences, nonetheless, it is still an emotional experience. Sharon Keith summed up what the club meant to her: "The best things about Poetry Club are the people who dedicate themselves to the club and the poems that are impressions of the author's life. I especially like the trust."

On The Write Track!

When people join a club, they don't know what to expect. Will they like me? What if I do something stupid? But, then there is that one moment that turns it all around. Challenge member Jeff Adams said his most memorable moment was "our non-party gatherings, and not quoting people in the yearbook." But, not everybody has the same memorable moment. Challenge member Cheri Winkler explained that hers was "making fun of Jeff and helping him with his Spanish homework." But like they say, no two things are exactly the same. That is how you could compare this year and last year. First of all, we didn't have our usual advisor, Mrs. Carter. Instead, we had our editor-in-chief, Carey, and Miss Winfield help us. This was a big change because we didn't know what to expect or if we would be able to meet our deadlines.

Challenge is not the only group that goes through this. Chronicle also had their share of challenges.

While reminiscing back on the year, Kristan Mulley said that she will never forget "when everyone was yelling at each other before deadlines." But, Raven Moore gives a different perspective of memorable moments. She said that she will always remember, "when John interviewed Poncharello from the television series Chips." Chronicle also had a change during the years. "This year the paper was so much better because Kristan and I were editors. We got to write better stories about wacky adventures that go on here at WeGo," explained Nichole Cordin. Raven Moore did not agree with her. Instead she said, "Unfortunately, although our paper improved last year, we did not gain the respect we had deserved and hoped for."

So, as you can see, both Challenge and Chronicle have interesting moments.

Cats Work Hard

Even though this football season started out with high hopes, dreams, and excitement, it certainly did not end that way. Maybe there just wasn't enough support, or maybe WeGo's guardian angel just couldn't make it to any of the games. But all the great teams have their difficult years.

All-Conference winners were Tom Suess and John

Gabbard, with MVP going to Eric Winkler and Suess, and MIP to Brandon Fantozzi and John Jovanovich. Fonzi Medina received Best Offensive Player and Jerry Planek took Best Defensive Player.

Cats finished with a disappointing record of 0 and 9. We'll look at this year as rebuilding for next year.

For The Record

The varsity Lady Wildcat basketball team began the season with a big win against Lyons Township, who were third in state in 1993. Raven Moore agrees, "Winning the Lyons Township Tournament was definitely the highlight of the entire season." The success of the Lady Wildcats continued throughout their conference play.

Overall, the varsity team had a record of 17-8 and a conference record of 10-4. With the team's success, Coach Wallner was able to achieve her 100th win as a coach at West Chicago. Carey Netzel and Julie Kramer received the MXTE award, Raven Moore was awarded MIP, Sheri Daleiden received Defensive Player of the Year, and Robin Westrom received MVP.

Cats Drag In A Roller Coaster Season

Even though the boys' season faced good times and bad times, a sense of accomplishment was felt. The boys took on some tough teams; including Naperville Central which they held to 32 points in second round action. They also came away with some sweet wins including two against Wheaton Warrenville South. Much credit should be given to Donta Norwood for scoring 28 points, both at home and in their gym.

— The boys finished 5th in the conference, but placed second in the Oswego Tourney and second at the Waubonsie Valley Tourney. The future looks bright with a DVC champion sophomore team moving up.

Whatever It Takes

The volleyball squad once again tied for fourth place in the conference. They finished with a record of 13-17 overall, and 6-8 in conference.

Coach Kim Wallner decided early on that the theme of the year would be "Whatever it Takes." This helped motivate many of the players who have their own advice for future players. Cathy Carroll said, "If you play hard and do whatever it takes to win, you'll never have regrets." "Communication is the key to success," quoted Dana McKenzie. Kristi Oen stated, "You're only as good as your team. Either we all play well together or not at all."

One of the highlights of the season came when the Ladycats beat Naperville Central on the road. After losing the first match at We-Go, they wanted to prove something to Naperville and the conference. The team fought hard and ultimately was victorious. Some other highlights included beating rivals Glenbard East once and Glenbard South twice. They came out strong at Senior Parent Night and according to Sheri Daleiden, "played awesome."

Mark Centanni thought the most memorable moment of the golf season was, "Handsy-back, handsy-thru." This year, the Most Valuable Player award went to junior, Jason Smith, while the Most Improved Player of the season was awarded to Chad Erickson.

The future for the golf program looks bright. There will be many top returning players including, Tim Landis who commented, "We didn't play up to our potential this year, but we'll do better next year."

Grapplers Claw Back

Wrestling started its season with a new, all american coach. Dan Knight took over the varsity wrestling team, bringing not only experience, but also dedication and success. Mike Genovesi believed, "He gave us confidence and taught us a lot of new wrestling techniques."

Wrestlers, Eddie Valdez, Jamie Philips, and Rich Berendson all advanced to the sectional meet at Conant High School. Seniors and captains, Todd Reffett and Felipe Hernandez were also sectional Qualifiers. Rich Berendson, at 135, went on to place second, which advanced him to the state finals in Champaign. Awards given for the Varsity wrestling squad included: the Most Improved to James Philips, Most Outstanding Wrestler to Rich Berendson, and Eddie Valdez was named to the All Conference team. Overall, the Varsity Wrestling Squad had a Conference record of 2-5 and a Dual Meet record of 15-15.

The lady Wildcat soccer team showed a great amount of improvement this season. Not only did the team finish with an overall record of 7-10-1, but they broke several records. A few of those included: most consecutive wins, consecutive games without a loss, and most goals scored in a game. Kim Hack, Betsy Co, Dana McKenzie, Sheri Daleiden and Tiina Martin received Honorable Mention All Conference honors, while Raven Moore received All Conference and Honorable Mention All Sectional honors.

This season's conference play was tough. Wego pulled out two wins in overtime against Glenbard South and Glenbard East. With a solid goalie and a lot of experience, the soccer team can look toward a bright future.

The Wildcat girl's swim team won with a fourth place finish in the toughest sectional in I.H.S.A. history and ninth overall in the state. The Wildcats qualified in three relays and six individual events at state. Tawney Larm, Kate Ryan, Becky Manning, and Heidi Herold all qualified in individual events.

All three of the relays made it to state this year. In the 200 medley relay all seniors (Herold, Jenny Weigand, Angie Lowell, and Ryan) went to state. For the 200 free relay it was Manning Weigand, Larm, and Ryan. Finally for the 400 free relay it was Manning, Weigand, Larm, and Ryan.

This season was a great season. As Ryan says, "It was the best of times and the worst of times, according to the stop watch, that is."

Making Waves

There was a lot of excitement and apprehension going into the swimming season. The reason was that there was a new swimming coach, Len Penkala. During the season there were a lot of memorable moments, Junior Chris Brown reminisces on the time that they had "the shave down, and watching teammates hair fall down." One great feat was performed by sophomore Dan Tracey who broke the school record in the 100 yd. backstroke. The swimmer ranked number one in Junior Varsity was Dan Nagel and in Varsity it was Jai Hartigan. The swimmers also competed in Sectionals where every member of the Wildcat team that swam scored points.

In Case You Haven't Noticed . . .

Badminton is not the backyard sport that it's always been referred to as. For one, the girls practice Monday thru Saturday for two to three hours a day. They're coached by Lavora Singleton and Lisa Black Gomez. Their hard work has been taken notice of. Both junior Alicia Cox and senior Heather Adams were honored for Athlete of the Week four times in one season. On April 29-30 Alicia Cox and Heather Adams competed in the D.V.C. and received a second place together in varsity doubles. They also were the only two out of their team to make it to state. Junior Alicia Cox summed it up the season well when she stated, "I think we had a good season. We all worked really hard and it paid off." And as for all those people who don't think badminton is a sport, well then you missed the match.

The Start Of Something Big

This was the first year that boy's Volleyball was introduced to our school. In the beginning of the season there was a lot of excitement and apprehension. Along the way though, they went through some tough times. There were many injuries that disabled their performances. Coach Wayne Chadwick's advice of, "Winning isn't everything but putting forth the effort is" stuck through the team's mind. The volleyball players all agree that our school gave them support throughout the season by showing up with a band in the bleachers. Steve Petuski's motto of "Don't get hurt and don't ever give up" certainly exemplified the volleyball season altogether.

Team bonding before a match is essential to good play; Michelle Rapinchuk, Michelle Kolodick, State qualifier doubles Karen Hesterman, singles Tiina Martin, doubles Carey Netzel, Amy Langemack and Aimee Miller illustrate this.

Netters Fight Back

Practiced, makes perfect as both the tennis teams found out. Without dedication and the will to win you won't get very far. Despite placing fifth in conference by $\frac{1}{2}$ point, the girls placed second in sectionals and advanced: Tiina Martin, Karen Hesterman, and Carey Netzel to the State Finals. According to Hesterman, "making it to state for the first time was the most memorable point of the season."

The boys also had a challenging season, one that required rebuilding. However, the boys had a good time, and recall: "The funniest thing this season was Mike (Winterhalder) our captain, and all his quotes in the paper," Matt Bowne. Mike Leck states, "The funniest thing was Tom Suess on the team."

Go Girl!

The success story for track was Dee Dee Judson. She competed in State and placed sixth overall in the shot put. The distance was 39.1 feet and it was a new school record. Judson said she wasn't nervous about State, "Because you knew what you were doing the second time around."

Judson had competed in State last year also. She has been in track all 3 years and looks forward to her senior year and again State next year. "My goal for next year is to try to go over 40 feet." Good luck next year, Dee Dee!

Cats Tear Up Field

Varsity softball had an exciting season, finishing the year with 20 wins and only 5 losses. Big games included those against Batavia, where they won 14 to 1, Naperville Central, who they trounced 10-1 and 16-4, and Willowbrook, who suffered a 14-5 loss against the Lady Cats.

Even more exciting are future prospects. Freshmen were undefeated, and JV had a respectable season as well. The only sad point was the loss of Coach Lee Maciejewski, who left WeGo after many great winning years. Said JV player Angela Barnes, "It was a really great season but I was really sorry it had to end, especially because it was Coach Maciejewski's last season."

The baseball team has had its ups and downs and its share of joy and pain. Eric Hall said "Our record didn't show how good we really were. We had lots of talent we just couldn't get it all together. We had a young team consisting of 3 sophomores, 11 juniors, and 7 seniors so we should do better in the future." "If you work hard and do what your coaches tell you, it will pay off. Your team will be successful and you will have fun," was the advice Ryan Saul gave to all the other aspiring baseball members. Voted for MVP was John Miller and Bill Tuma. MIP was Jerry Planek.

The Pom Pon's summer spelled out success. At the University Of Illinois, the Kickin' Cats received first place in camp. They were led by Coach Myrna Woodson. Zora Slapak and Anita Castellano both agree that the funniest thing that happened during the season was, "when Jessica Bartsch lost her shoe in the middle of the kickline at the Midwest Invitational." The cheerleaders were headed by new coaches Kristy Bachelor and Yvonne Winfield. They incorporated more gymnastics and also had guys on the squad for the first time.

Look What The Cat Dragged In . . . A Year To Remember!

So long, farewell, Auf Wiedersehen, Good-bye . . . these words sound so familiar, but yet so fitting. The year has passed before my eyes with many things changed and many things unchanged. The close of the school year also brings a close to the yearbook, here's a reflection of what the cat dragged in . . .

- 10 class period school day
- 5 lunch periods
- Warning Bell
- Taste of West Chicago
- First ever homecoming win for the juniors
- Color Guard
- Winter Wonderland Week
- Boys' Cheerleaders

- Grand Kermes
- Prom Fashion Show
- Mr. Wildcat
- Spring sports pep assembly
- Boys' Volleyball
- "All Night Long"

A Tip Of The Fedora

As a child I remember spending hours looking through my sister's yearbook. I was fascinated by all the pictures and could hardly imagine how long it must have spent to make. Then the time came for me to get involved in the yearbook-making process. It was a struggle at first, but the extra effort landed me a spot in the editor's position.

After days of debate we decided on the theme, "Look What the Cat Dragged In." Unfortunately "Environment," "Blue Ribbon," and the ever popular "Elvis" made the "there's always next year" list.

I tip my hat to the staff for meeting their deadlines, even when they were unsure of their work. I would also like to thank Mrs. Carter for putting up with me and taking the time to help me when I was unsure of my work. It was a real "challenge" when she left us to have a child, but I believe she said that for our inconvenience, she was naming her first born after the editor. I would also like to thank Mr. McCann for kindly exchanging the use of the Mac for sweets.

It has been a great experience working on the staff and it will stay with me for a lifetime. I hope what you've experienced during high school will also be a memory to you.
